"But Benny sent me!" pleaded the stranger. "Sorry, Knights only," a Council member retorted. The intruder had been trying to crash Prospect's traditional All-Knight Party. *Assemblies and rallies showed the Knights'
spirit and participation*

District 214's Heavens to Betsy received national television and newspaper coverage as well as the heartfelt thanks of New Orleans officials.

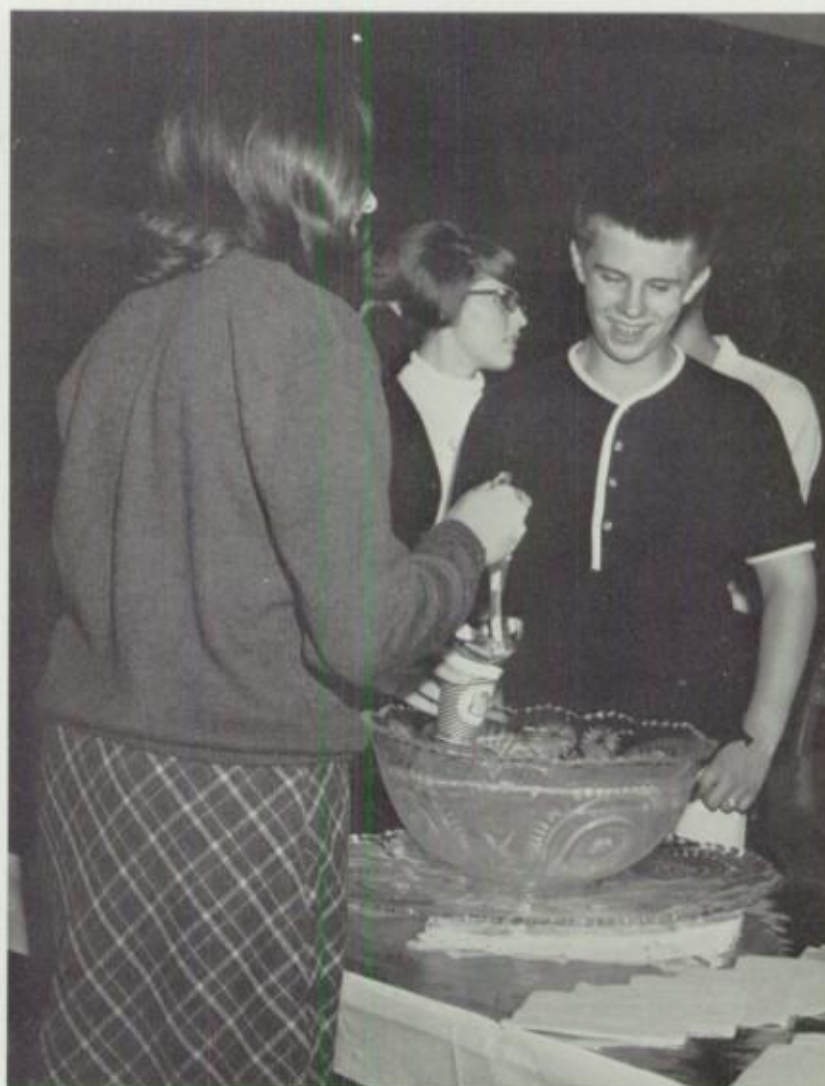

A warm day brings spirited Knights, backed by the Prospect band, outside for one of their pepiest rallies to open the athletic season.

Skits, speeches, and debates invite the student body to boost school spirit and participation.

Preparation, excitement then—Knightlife

A Knight's life in '65 was kicked off on September 18. New rhythms and beats echoed in the girls' gyms as the "Monterey's", a combo from Northwestern University, entertained the dancers. This annual dance, sponsored by the Juniors, provided an extra boost for their Prom fund.

The cafeteria always welcomes tired feet and thirsty dancers.

"Knightlife" moves to keep up with the beat from 8 to 11 P.M.

Drill and decoration for Knights preparation

The week of October fourth through the ninth was a hectic one for any student involved in pre-homecoming activities. Building class and club floats and putting final touches on marching routines and game strategies required after-hours attention as the Knights raced to complete preparations on time. Starting a new tradition, Knights painted Mt. Prospect store windows in a "Paint the Town" campaign.

Neither rain nor wind will keep us from the completion of our practice-the show must go on Saturday.

Time: Homecoming week. Place: Downtown Mt. Prospect. Purpose: "Let's paint the town!"

A hard-working float builder takes a moment to pose for the candid camera amid the forgotten napkins and wire.

The five regal queen candidates and their escorts stand in a row, pondering that question whose answer everyone will soon know.

Excitement mounts, trumpets scream, and then comes the proclamation that Kathy is our queen.

These happy Mellotones, smiling and serene, dedicate their song, "Dear Knight," to the 1965 Knightimes queen.

Knight spirit prevailed under gloomy weather

Hopes for a victorious homecoming game are exemplified by Biology Club's interpretation of Knight's desires to leap over the Wheeling Wildcats.

Sophomores display the gratifying result of weeks of hard work. The towering Knight represents a first place well deserved by his creator.

An interim between rousing marches prevails as the marching band makes its way through Mt. Prospect on the Homecoming parade route.

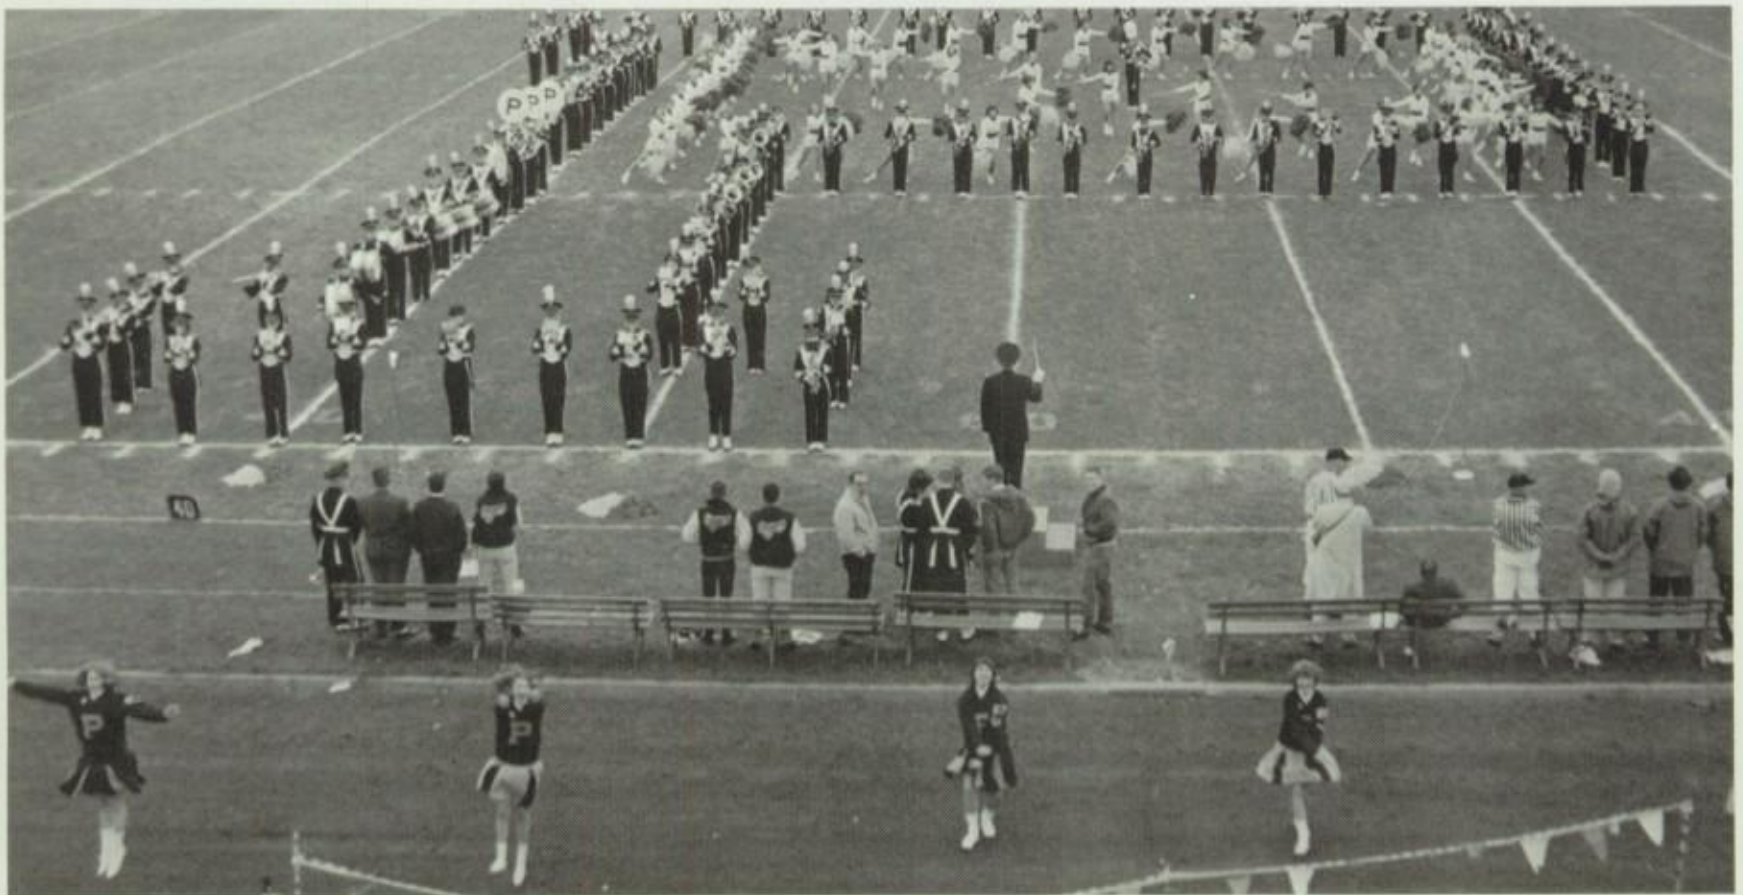

*Homecoming '65
expressed loyalty, service and honor of Knighthood*

Queen Kathy Farleigh hands the game ball to the team co-captains to start our mighty fight against the Wheeling Wildcats.

The traditional "P" formation and the singing of Prospect loyalty holds a special meaning at Homecoming.

The quaint and quiet atmosphere of Knight-times is carried to attendants of the dance on the wings of modern song.

Queen Kathy beholds her court in quiet solitude.

Courage, honor, loyalty, service, the code of the Knights, were upheld during the traditional Knighttimes weekend culminated by a royal ball. Among arches of navy and blue, Knights swirled to the music of Bob Bullard and his orchestra. Highlighting this regal affair, presented by Varsity Club, was the Queen's Dance led by Queen Kathy and her Knightly court.

The queen dances while Knights look on in admiration of Prospect royalty.

Security is knowing your mother loves you.

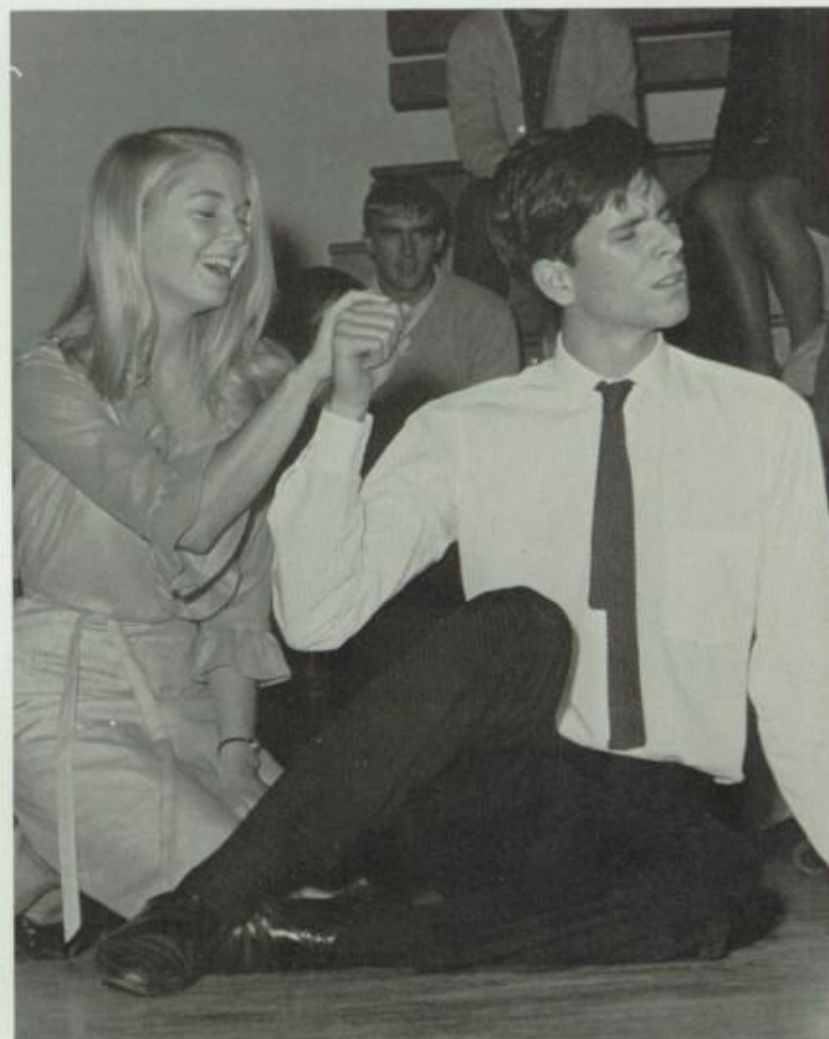

Successful production revealed hidden talent

Intrigue, romance, humor, and above all talent blended together to make the '65 variety show, "The Alter Id of H.S. Kidd," a hit. This engaging tale of a student who constantly lapsed into a dream world was brought to life by seniors, Bill Nendel as Marvy Louse, Jim Grady as Walter Kidd, Pam Budris portraying Isa Berger, and junior, Sue Courtney playing Trudy Blue.

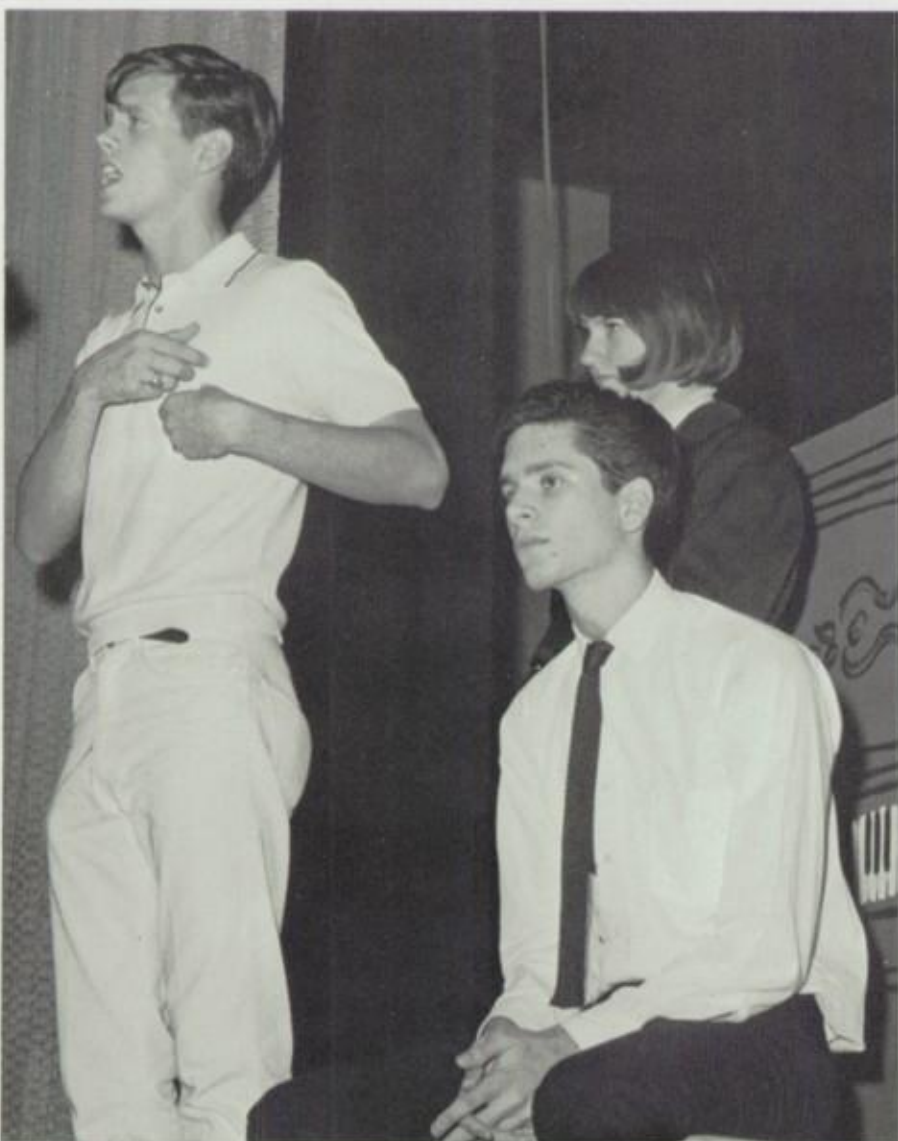

Gyrations and gestures change a sedate stage into a Cellar.

The All-American girl finds herself in a game of tug-of-war.

Talent displayed ranges from the sophisticated to the slapstick.

After Walter unexpectedly wins the game, victory celebrations take place led by a twirler and pom pom girls.

Marvy Louse is everything that Walter Kidd ever dreamed of being: handsome, athletic, and talented.

Make-up completed transition and effect

A few strokes of a grease pencil and a tube of lipstick age a character from 16 year old actress to a shrew, aged 40.

Before the play many transformations occur producing startling effects. The make-up used could supply a girl for two years.

The setting, Indian Island; the time, now; the place, the living room of a house. "Ten Little Indians" was a captivating drama about the mysterious deaths of eight people and their eerie familiarity with the rhyme, "Ten Little Indians." With this play, Knight thespians began a new season with new director, Mrs. Lewkowicz.

As the curtain falls to end a thrilling production, lovers kiss and fulfill the rhyme by entering wedded bliss.

With only three of the original characters alive, distrust and suspense mount until the villain reveals his macabre plan.

Attendant Cindi Gosch and her sophomore escort, Ken Nehmzow, walk up the pathway to receive her roses.

Depicting the theme, "The Knight Before Christmas," the Sophomore Class decorated the cafeteria with "visions of sugar plums" and "eight tiny reindeer." Playing for the December winter dance was Don Melka's Orchestra. The queen, chosen from a court of 12 girls, was escorted by a sophomore boy.

'Twas the knight before Christmas

Against a winter background, carefully designed and built by sophomores, couples relax between dances.

Though the roses she carries are new, Karen MacDonald's crown is one passed on from queen to queen at the Christmas Ball.

Juniors and seniors endure hours of testing designed to determine their ability to do college level work.

College preparation

Early on a Saturday morning, sleepy-headed juniors and seniors stumbled out of bed to undergo several grueling hours of college entrance or scholarship exams. Offered five times a year, the SAT and ACT tests assessed one's ability to do college work. The ACT tests were required primarily for entrance into state supported schools, whereas SAT tests were necessary for acceptance into most public and private colleges. National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Tests, sponsored by the Ford Foundation, were given in the spring to give financial aid to eligible, talented students.

College representatives describe campus life at the school of your choice.

Students arriving for the 8:00 a.m. SAT exams are required to register before being tested.

The mass brass section of the Festival Band plays John Philip Sousa's famous march, "The Fairest of the Fair."

Music Festival

Mr. Richard Hoffland, chorus director at Millikin University, conducts performance of classical and modern selections.

The District 214 Band and Music Festival includes numbers by the Festival Band under the direction of Dr. George Wilson.

Assemblies provided welcomed diversions

An outdoor pep assembly started out the 1965 football season and prepared the way for increasing school loyalty.

Prospect's principal Mr. Kulieke is present at almost every school event from assemblies to football games.

The selective topics discussed every month during career conferences acquainted many students with a number of occupations.

As Gish tries to revive Miss Amnity, Penelope Jackson gleefully thumbs through Suzette's only friend, her bug book.

"Thrice We Enter"

The first presentation of an original play, The Perch, written by senior, Jim Grady, was given on February 3 and 5 in the Little Theatre. Completing the evening's entertainment entitled "Thrice We Enter," were two other enthralling one act plays, Marriage Proposal and Lord Halewyn.

While Natalia's face mirrors indifference, her intent suitor worries over the proper approach to win her hand in marriage.

Portraying the narrator, Jim Grady insists "The Scarlet Letter" is excellent literature for use during the childrens' story time.

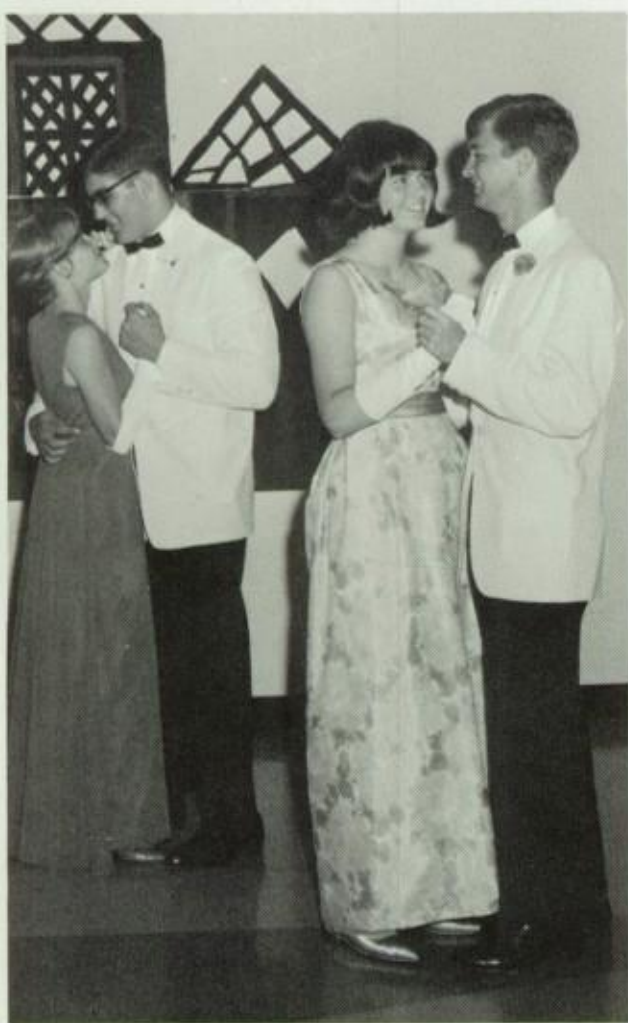

Joe Rosanova and Bruce Boxleitner portray an anxious father and an extremely nervous suitor in the comedy, Marriage Proposal.

A princess experiences a moment of torment in a prize-winning performance of Lord Halewyn.

Goblets are filled and a respectful silence is kept before the rejoicing for a battle won.

“Something Old, Something New”

As a final tribute to the departing Class of '66, the juniors presented the spring prom. From the time the couples arrived at Flick-Reedy, they were whirled into the atmosphere of tradition that surrounds Prospect's proms. Couples danced to the music of Bob Over and his Orchestra.

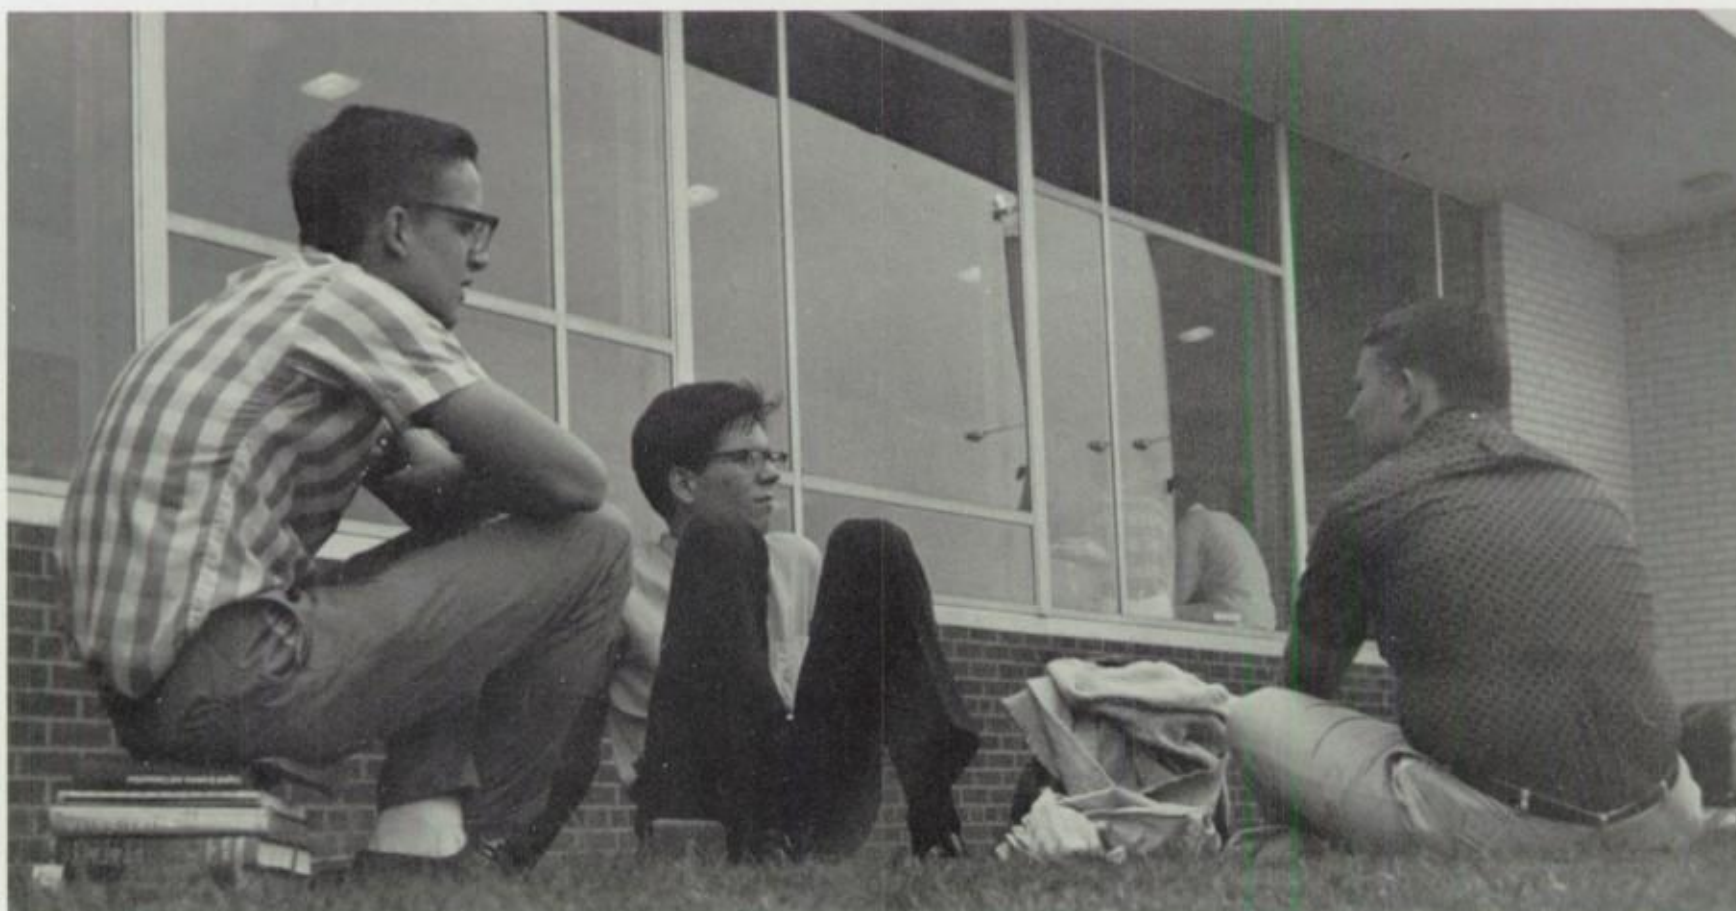

Knights pondered the serious side of life

High school students spend many pensive hours changing and reorganizing their childhood ideas as they become adults.

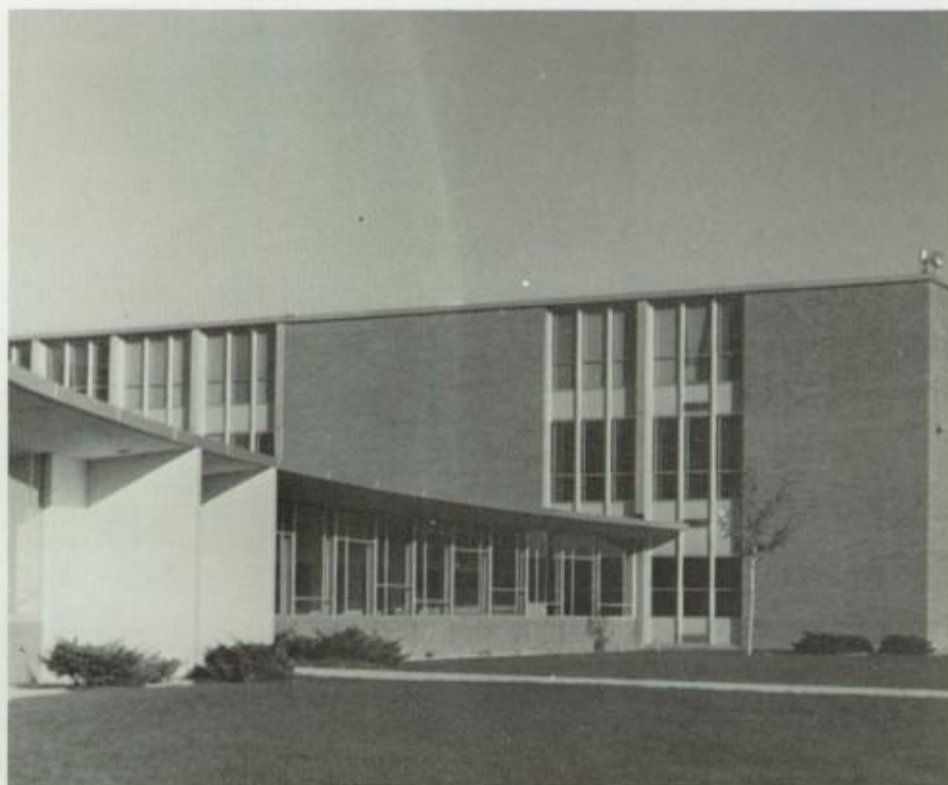

New concepts learned in chemistry and how they will affect future lives are often unexpected food for thought.

"Shooting the breeze with the guys" proves to be a welcomed sounding board for pet problems.

Students add life to a normally quiet campus

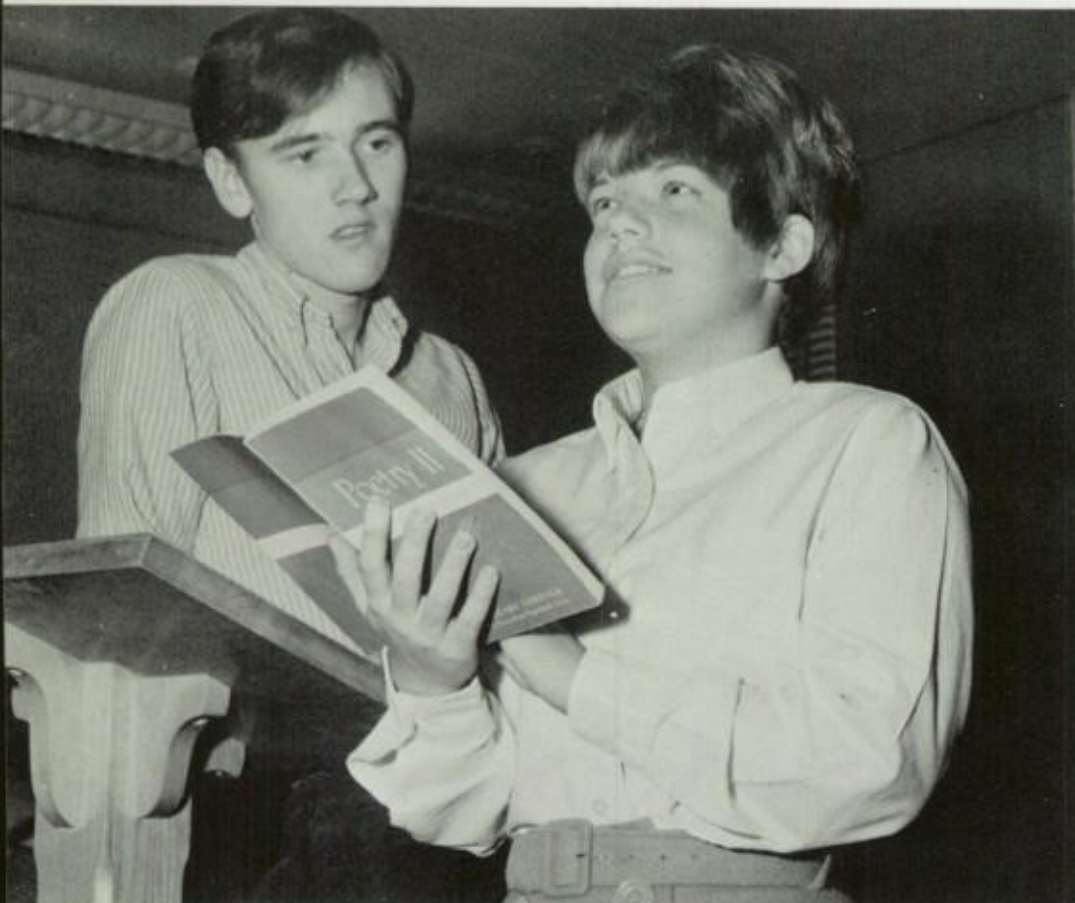

The junior honors English class deals in depth with the "-isms" of American literature through extensive reading and discussion.

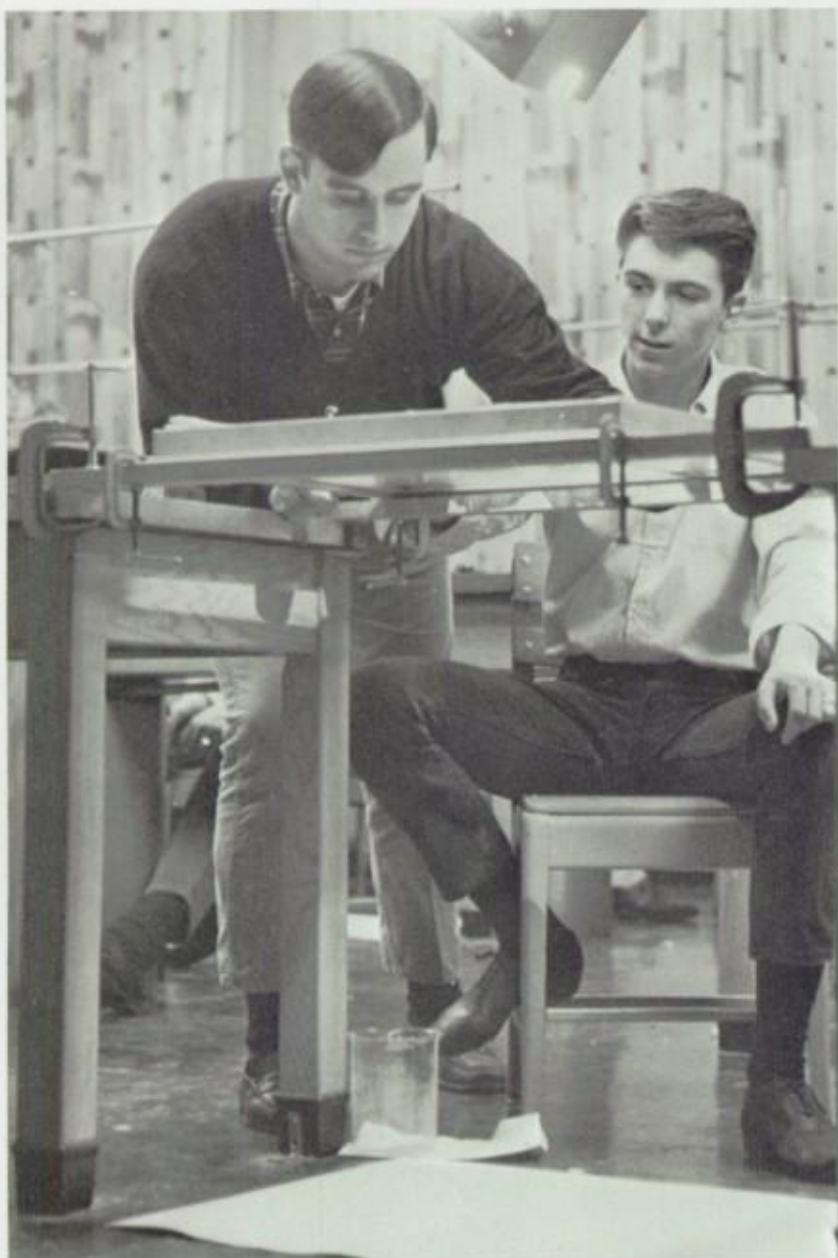

Similes, speech, symbolism, and Shakespeare

Innovation was a key to the success of Prospect's English Department. Under the direction of Mr. Fyfe, the department introduced Cre-X, a creative writing class for seniors, and special SRA study on composition for freshmen. Through the Fine Arts Division, the department aimed at an increased awareness of the influences of art and music on literature. Highlighting the year for the senior honors level class was a chance to see film productions of "Becket" and "Othello."

Physics students simulate light wave refraction in a ripple tank.

In order to conduct a study of human anatomy, seniors dissect a fetal pig and apply their knowledge comparatively to man.

An experiment in catalytic action and the generation of pure oxygen foster curiosity in sophomore physical science students.

Photosynthesis, allotropy, and centripetal force were some of the many concepts discussed in Prospect's science courses. Under the direction of Mr. Kemman, the Science Department offered a program designed to provide the college-bound student with an excellent well-rounded scientific background. Thought-provoking laboratory work, classroom lectures, and supplementary reference materials increased student awareness of the fascination and complexity of modern science.

Although Miss Volz is retiring after thirty-two year's service, she still enjoys teaching Roman culture to Latin students.

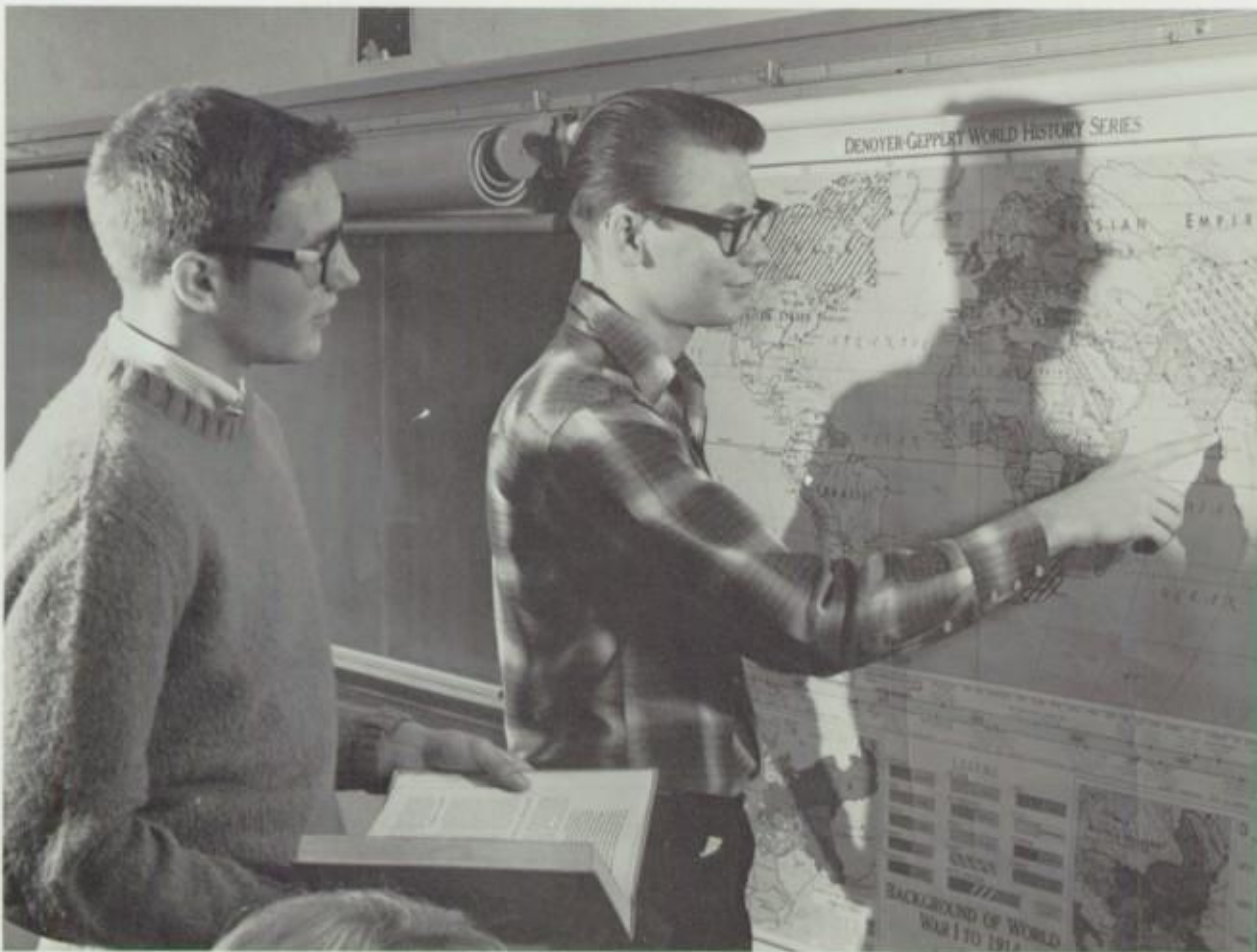

Attentiveness is a necessary quality in grasping the fundamentals of any language.

"Necessity is the mother of invention." Such was the byword of Prospect's Language Department. For the first time in the Knight's history, foreign language laboratory facilities met the growing needs of student linguists. Earphones and individual control devices, centrally operated by the instructor, were suspended from the ceiling, and the resulting simplicity encouraged oral participation. Miss Donna Marie Volz, retiring chairman of the department, left behind lasting contributions to patrons of her field.

Students strive to improve diction and their understanding of languages with the use of Prospect's new language lab headsets.

History students can easily visualize how the course of a nation is affected by its geography.

As social and economic problems increase, so does the need for an awareness and interest in current events and universal situations by all students today. World geography, sociology, and current history offered insight into the problems of man in relation to his environment. The opportunity to gain knowledge from the past to use in the future was presented in depth in world history and American history by the Social Science Department, headed by Miss Volz.

Concentration counts for the best possible results in a student's daily work.

Prospect's modern classroom facilities aid students in locating sites of major world events.

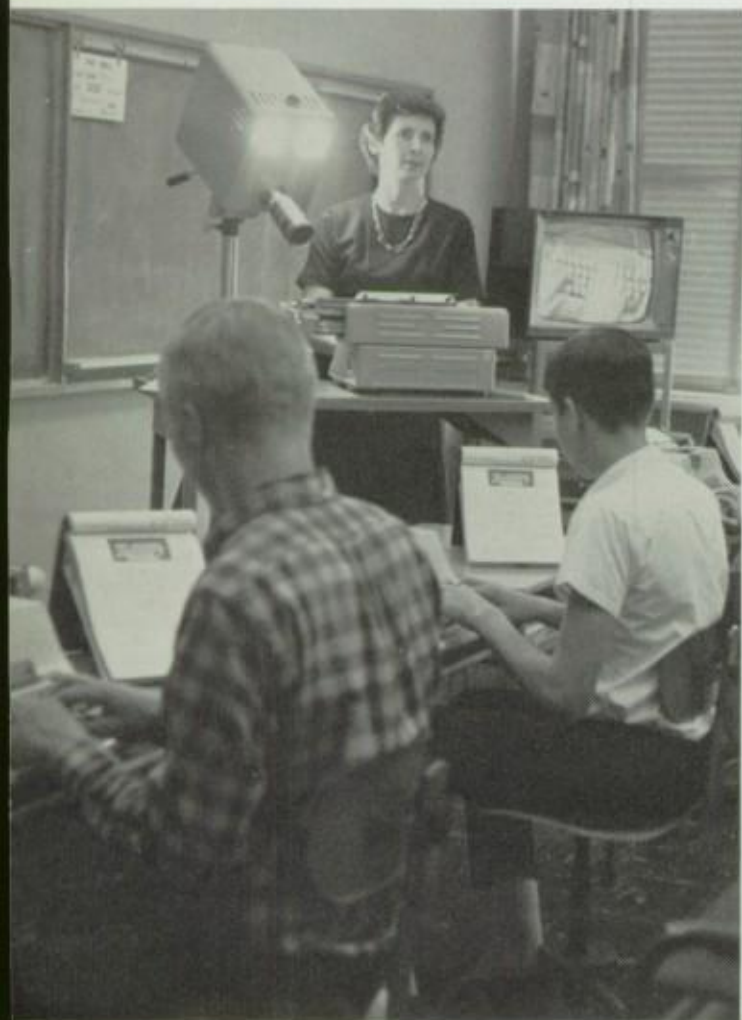

Training demanded by a world of increasingly complex business machines and procedures was provided by Prospect's Business Education Department. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Hutchens, the department enriched its curriculum with a shorthand lab, a television hookup for typing, and an extensive assortment of business machines. These and the efforts of the department's seven teachers provided this year's 682 business education students with skills invaluable in today's business world.

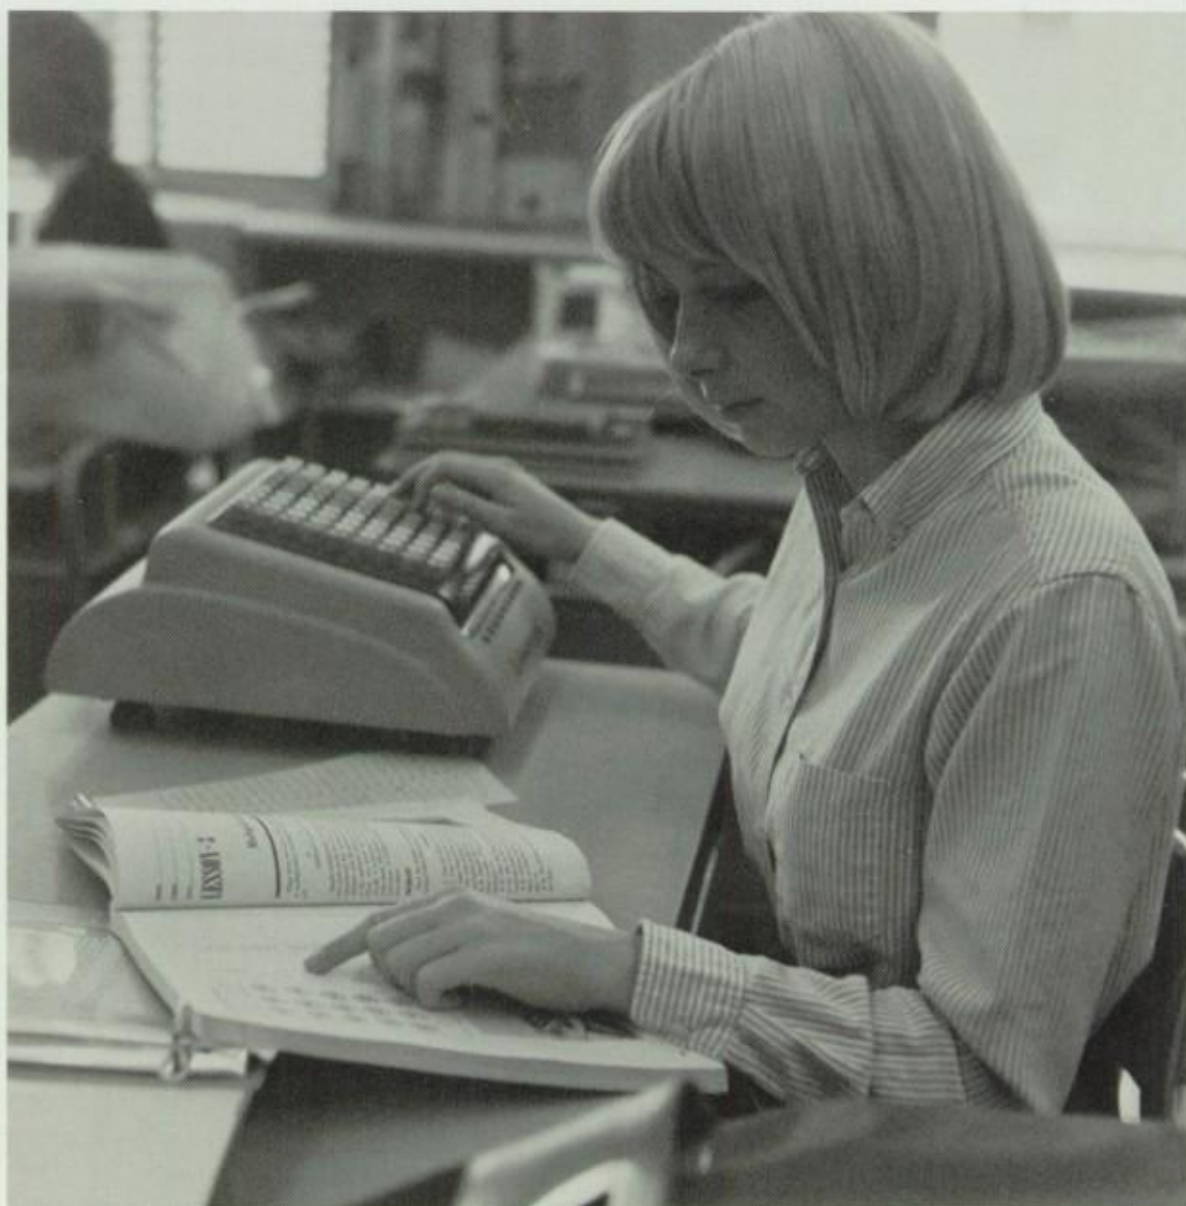

The Xerox, a photocopying machine which reproduces copies from an original, was rented for this year.

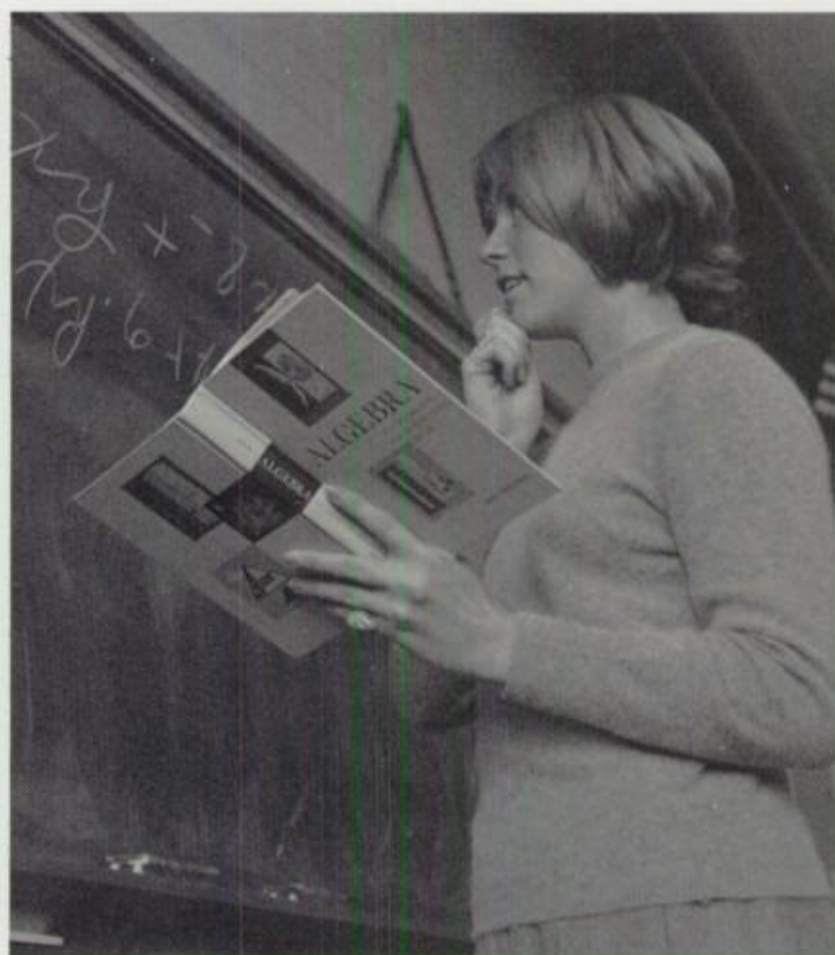

The comptometer performs addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division; time spent in mastering its keys is soon repaid.

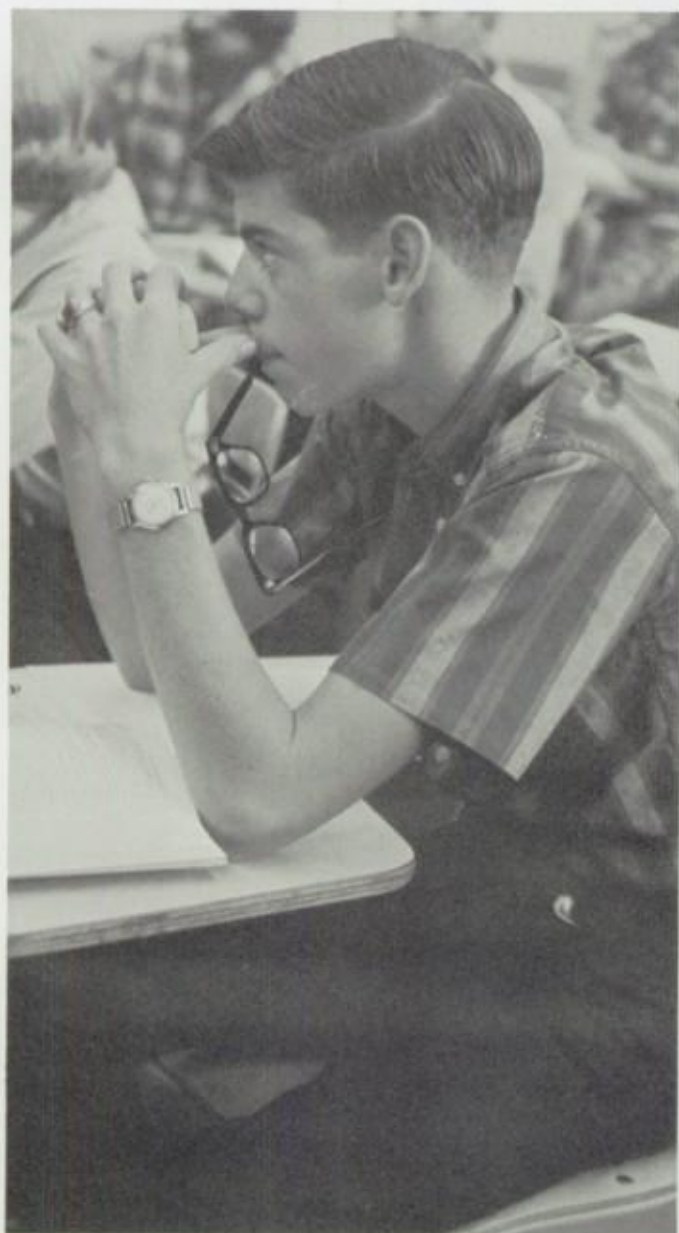

Learning to type with the aid of a television is useful in helping students to perfect their hand positions.

To the twelve teachers of the Math Department went the job of instructing Prospect's 1,496 math students. Department chairman, Mr. Yount conducted "Phase-In" phases of the math curriculum. New methods were introduced into all classes for students-on-the-go. Climaxing the year of 75 students was their participation in a nationwide test sponsored by the Mathematics Association of America, honoring students of outstanding ability. Senior Brett Lamberty scored second in the nation on the test.

This algebra student looks to her book for help in deciphering the maze on the board.

Geometry teacher, Mr. Nisen, aids his students as they learn how to bisect lines and angles.

A geometry student listens intently as his teacher explains a new concept.

First and second year art students are taught detailed pencil drawing and etching.

First year students practice the basic techniques, later other special printing types are learned.

Fine arts aided in developing culture

Several exceptionally talented artists presented unique, one-man display cases exemplifying their abilities in various media. To supply the beginning student with fundamental knowledge and broaden the creative world of the advanced student was the continued goal of Prospect art teachers, Mr. Knudsen and Mr. Weiss.

Advanced art students have a workshop where they could specialize in their particular interest.

Individual talent added up to one great sound in Prospect's music rooms. Popular music made practice easier and chorus more enjoyable.

Seasonal concerts, holiday assemblies, and a district festival displayed the vocal and instrumental skills students cultivated in Prospect's Music Department. Mr. Mische, Choral director, and Mr. Sandlund, band director, were aided by Mr. Blackley in developing the musicianship of Prospect's five choruses and five bands.

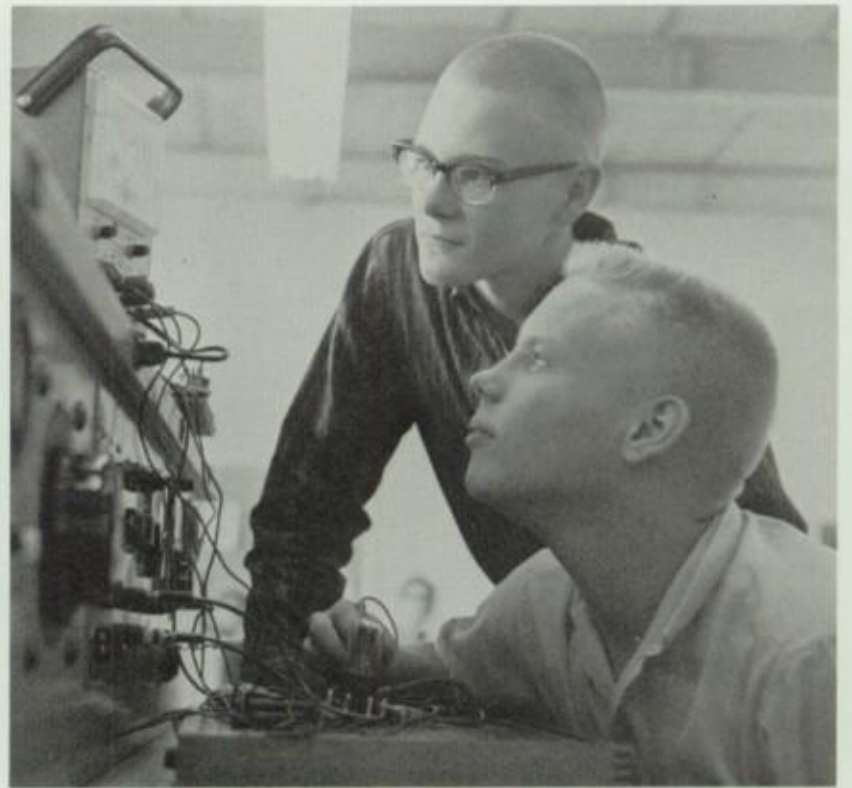

Even if some band members did not always appreciate their own music; the rest of Prospect's students did.

Chorus members learned and enjoyed many well known pieces this year in preparation for four annual concerts.

Once sanded and ready for use this piece of wood might be transformed into anything from a coffee table to a surfboard.

In procedures such as testing voltage, mechanical precision and human accuracy are of the utmost importance.

With $10,000 worth of equipment and an excellent staff, Mr. Laymon, as head of the Industrial Arts Department, was proud that Prospect could offer its students excellent preparation for any vocation. In the highly emphasized technical program the fundamentals of such skilled trades as drafting, mechanics and electronics could be mastered. The industrial program, on the other hand, helped students explore fundamental wood-working and metal skills in group as well as individual study.

Installing the bench power supply gave electronics students a practical knowledge of electricity.

Consumer product analysis aids the future homemaker by teaching her to get the best value and quantity for her money.

Learning about the home and the people in it are important parts of every girl's education. The Home Economics Department provided such opportunities and others in the field of fashion. Mrs. Breiding and Mrs. Lorenz planned to utilize modern teaching techniques, such as closed circuit television, in instructing the girls in everything from child care to home management. The girls practiced their skills by making and serving complete meals, putting on teas, and planning room decor.

Students learn how to select the right furnishings to fit any color scheme using color harmony rules.

Practice makes perfect in learning etiquette.

Although physical fitness is the anticipated result, unfitness is often the prevalent consequence.

An expansion and renovation of the Physical Education Department was carried out under the supervision of newly appointed division head, Mr. Gattas. Enlarging the already extensive physical education curriculum, the department added bowling and golf. The introduction of letter grades instead of the traditional "H" or "F" permitted the student to better evaluate his classroom standing.

Warm weather gave physical education students the chance to participate in outdoor athletics.

William Tell rides again astride the swift-flying arrows of sharp shooting Prospect archers.

A student learns of more recent news by reading periodicals from the magazine room.

Spurred by prospects of learning, one inquisitive student searches the card file in an effort to gather still more facts.

Aiding Knights in carrying the banner of knowledge was the aim of the library department. Miss Bartman and Mrs. Sigborn directed activities towards promoting interest in the humanities and the individual. Adding 500 new volumes to the existing stacks, the library strove to aid slower readers. Library clerks, Mrs. Platell and Mrs. Sbarbaro, assisted college bound students in finding college information in the recently started college counseling corner.

Ardent desire for knowledge of the world's progress and problems spurs a library patron on to the daily sojourns.

"Peter Piper picked a peck of Prospect students."

Services extend from guidance to first aid

Student aides learn helpful health tips while working as guides in the Health Service.

"The primary purpose of Pupil Personnel Services was to facilitate the maximum development of each individual student." To protect student health, Mrs. Palmberg gave aid to the sick and injured. Dedicated to helping students with emotional or psychological problems was Mr. D'Agata the social counselor. Mr. Breiding and Mrs. Harbeck served as a source of help to those students with speech impediments, by extending individual and group aid. Mr. Gillon proctored study hall 106 and aided other departments.

Students who volunteer to work as office guides during their study hall check student passes in and out.

1,903 college catalogues and guidance aid college-bound Knights.

This year Prospect's nine counselors held nearly 15,000 interviews with students, parents, and staff in order to solve a proportional number of problems. Under the direction of Mr. Feiereisel, counselors offered guidance in educational, vocational, and college fields. The counselors also directed testing programs and provided invaluable social counseling.

Student schedules are conveniently on hand for instant reference.

Counselors give advice on the ACT, SAT, and National Merit.

Pontiac Tournament*

J. D. Thorne squeezes past a Maine South pick to cut off his opponents scoring chances. This helps the Knights wipe out a 19 point deficit and win the game by a point.

Outstanding defensive work by returning letterman, Tom Lundstedt, enables Prospect to lead the Mid-Suburban Conference.

Dan Agard fails to pull down this rebound at Libertyville, during the first basketball game of the season.

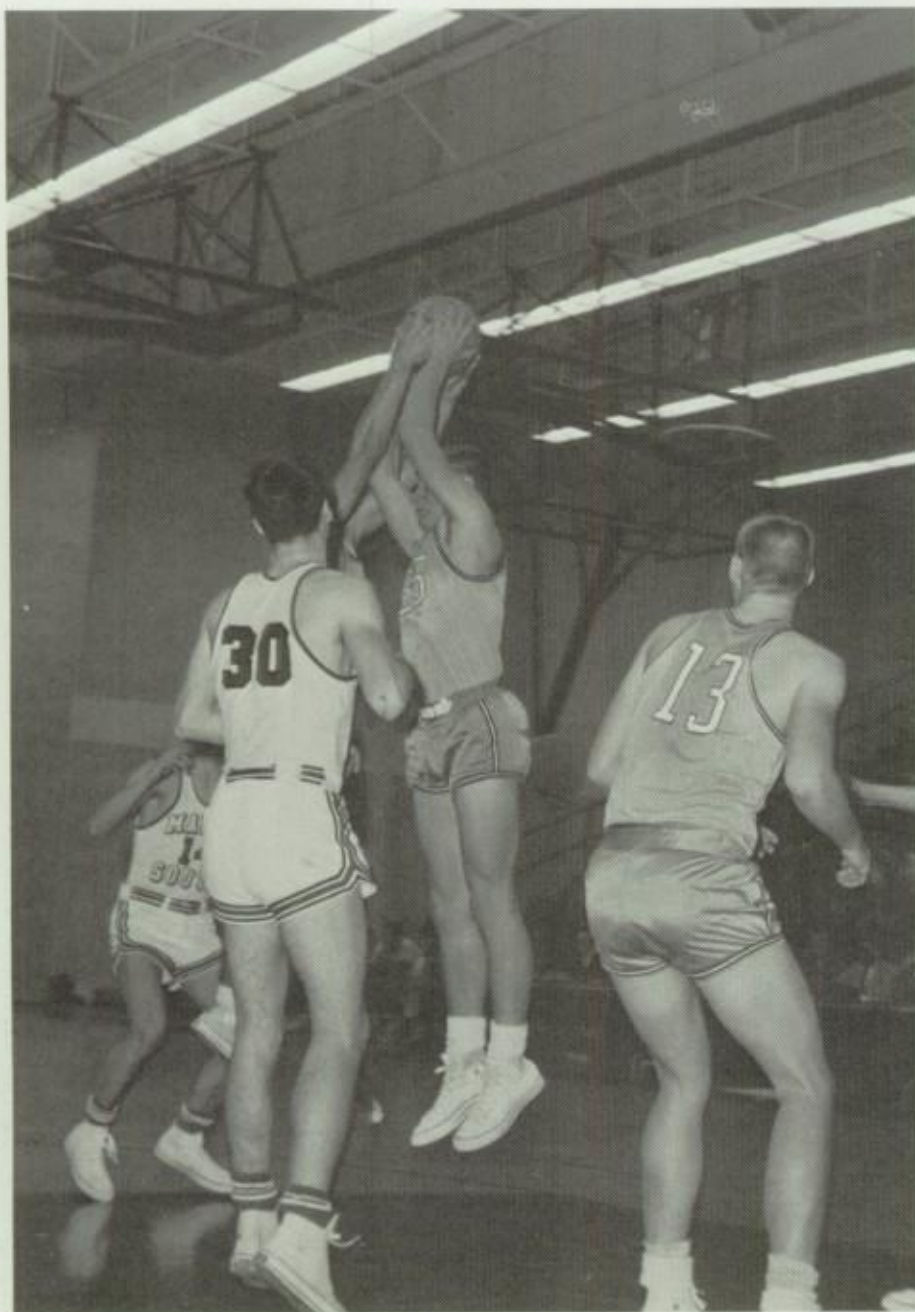

Cagers brought home two trophies, one traveling and one permanent, from the Pontiac Holiday Tournament.

Prospect and Maine South players watch as Dan Agard and Craig Wolfe vie for the ball.

All hands are up as they battle for this rebound. Moments later Arlington scored the final, decisive point.

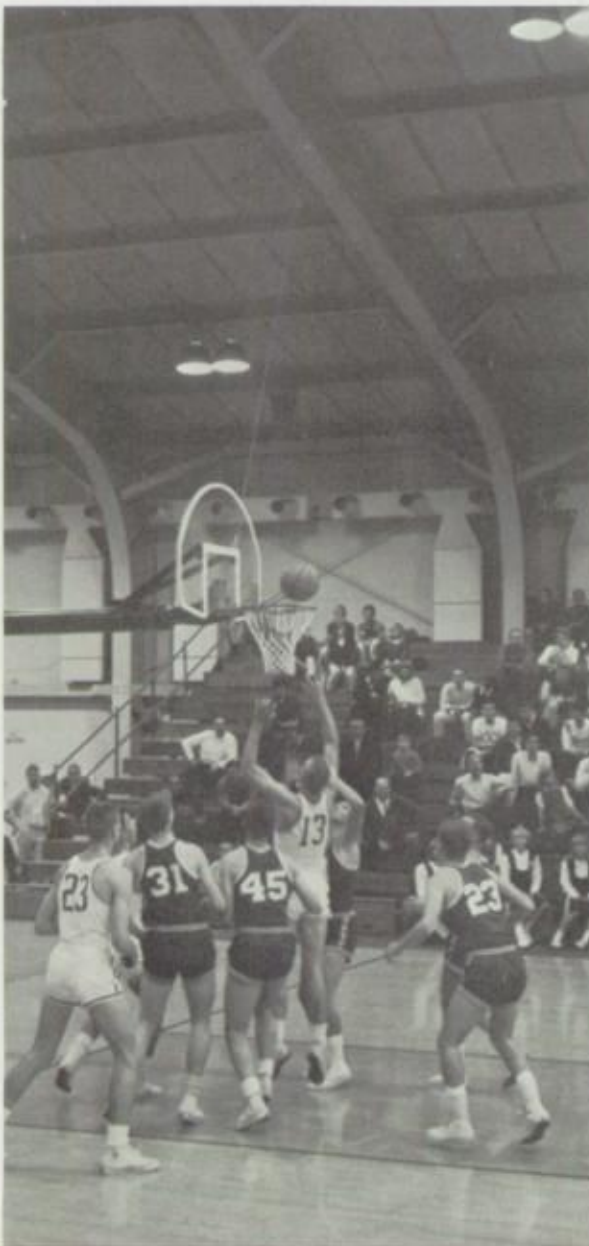

J. D. Thorne, using quick eyes and fast reflexes, attempts to curb ominous Main South offense.

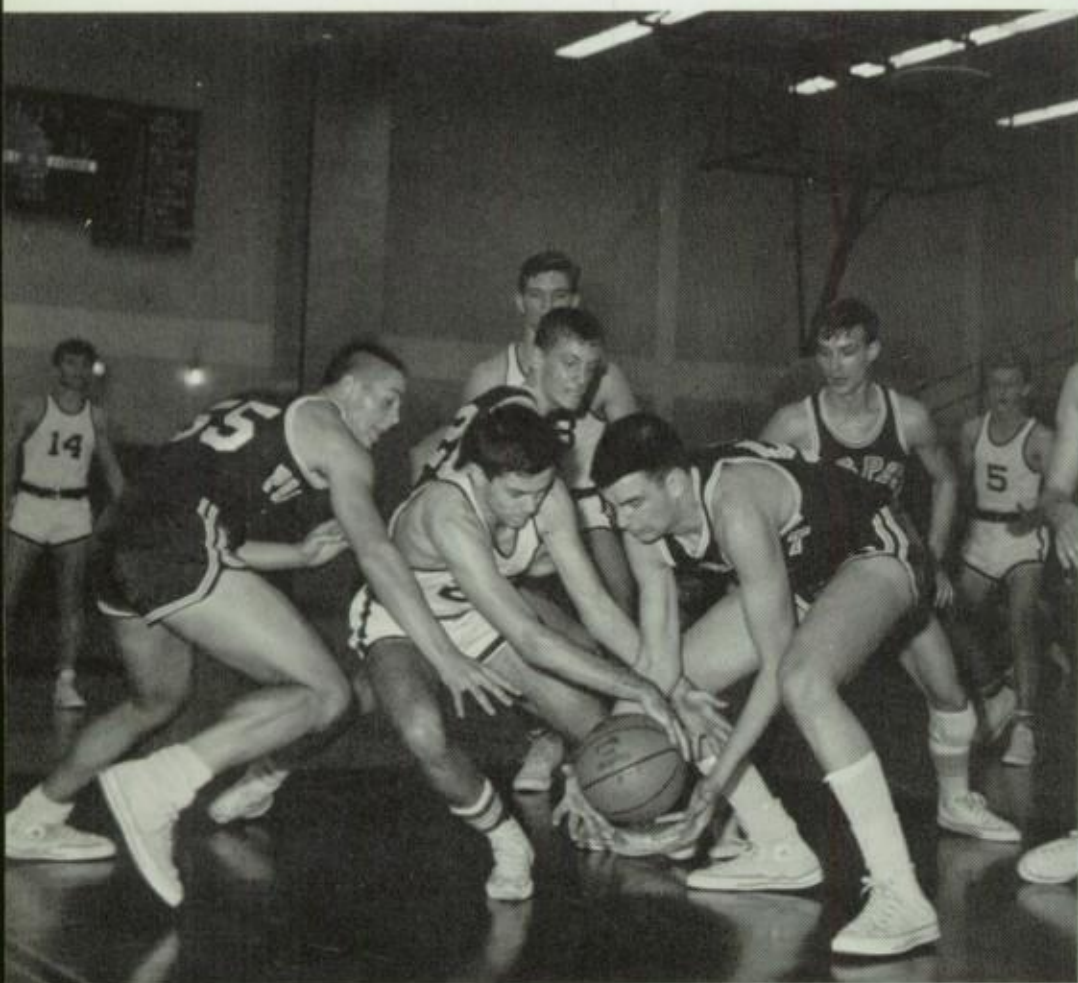

Craig Wolfe stands in waiting for a Wildcat pursued by Tony Kulasa at Libertyville where the Wildcats squeeze by by three points.

After being benched with a bad hip Dan Agard returns against Maine South to help the Knights chalk up their second '65-'66 season victory.

Tom Beard jumps for another two points, defeating the guarding tactics of a flying Cardinal.

Midway through the season, Tom Lundstedt leads the conference with an average of 22 points per game.

With a minute and nineteen seconds remaining and Prospect down by one point, Tom Grafton fights for the ball.

Timing and coordination enable Butch Leonard to control an important tip during the third quarter of the Libertyville game.

Getting rebounds helps to make this game the twenty-first victory in the J.V. winning streak.

Junior standout Jeff Long is about to win many valuable points by successfully completing a "Stutz hand," which is a most dangerous and difficult trick.

In his last season as wrestling coach, Mr. Mudge shouts perpetual encouragement to his winning grapplers.

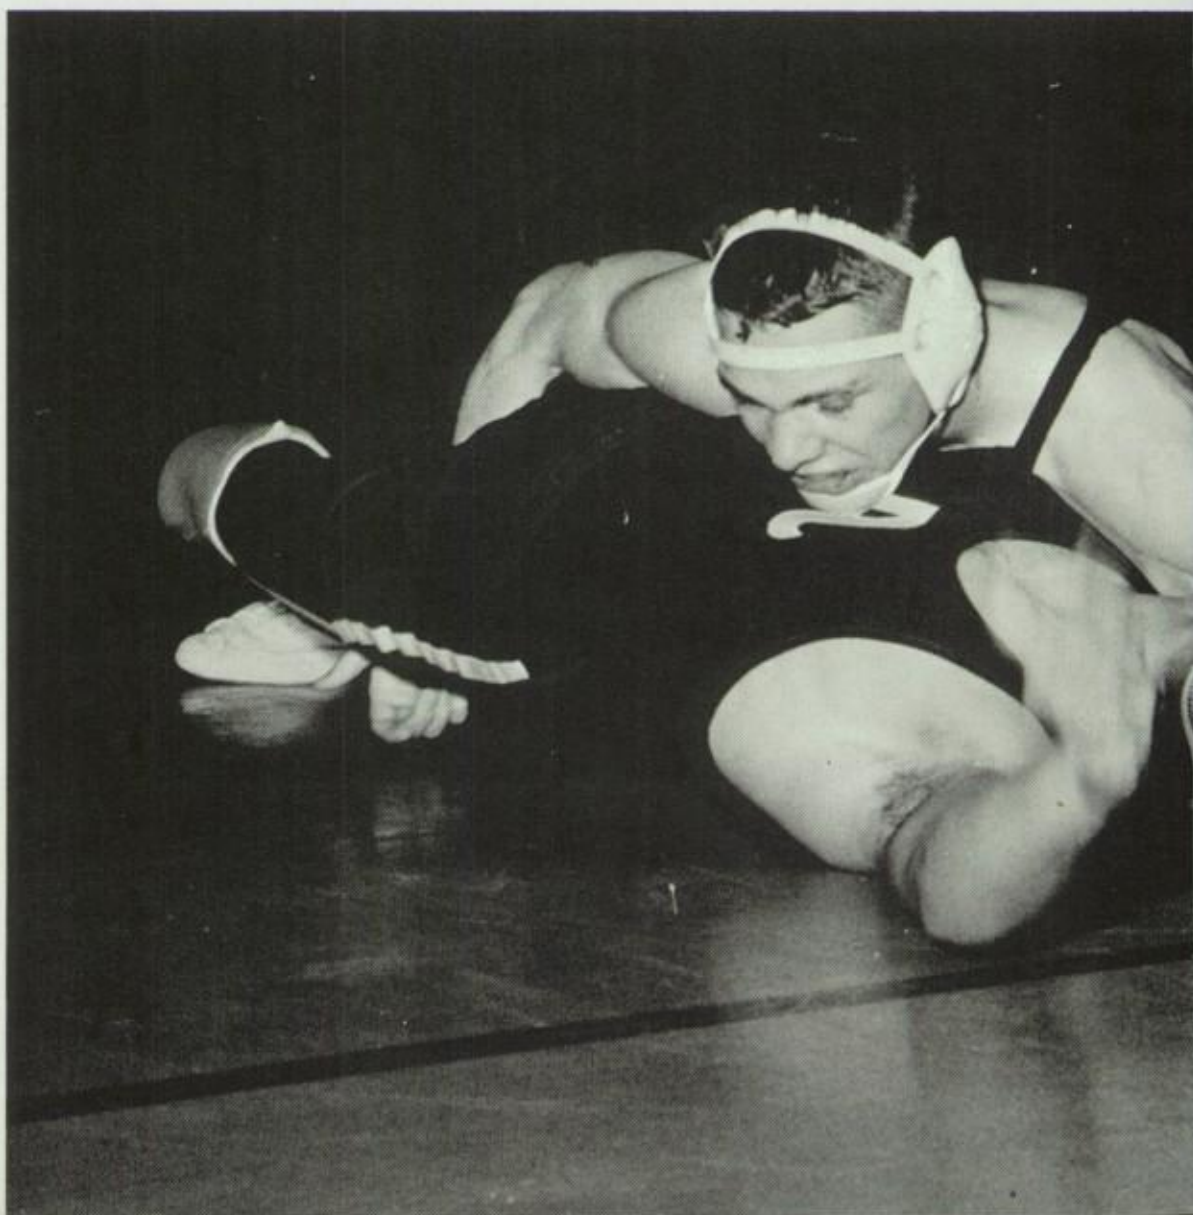

Dave Holmes uses a "two-on-one" to ride his Forest View opponent for victory.

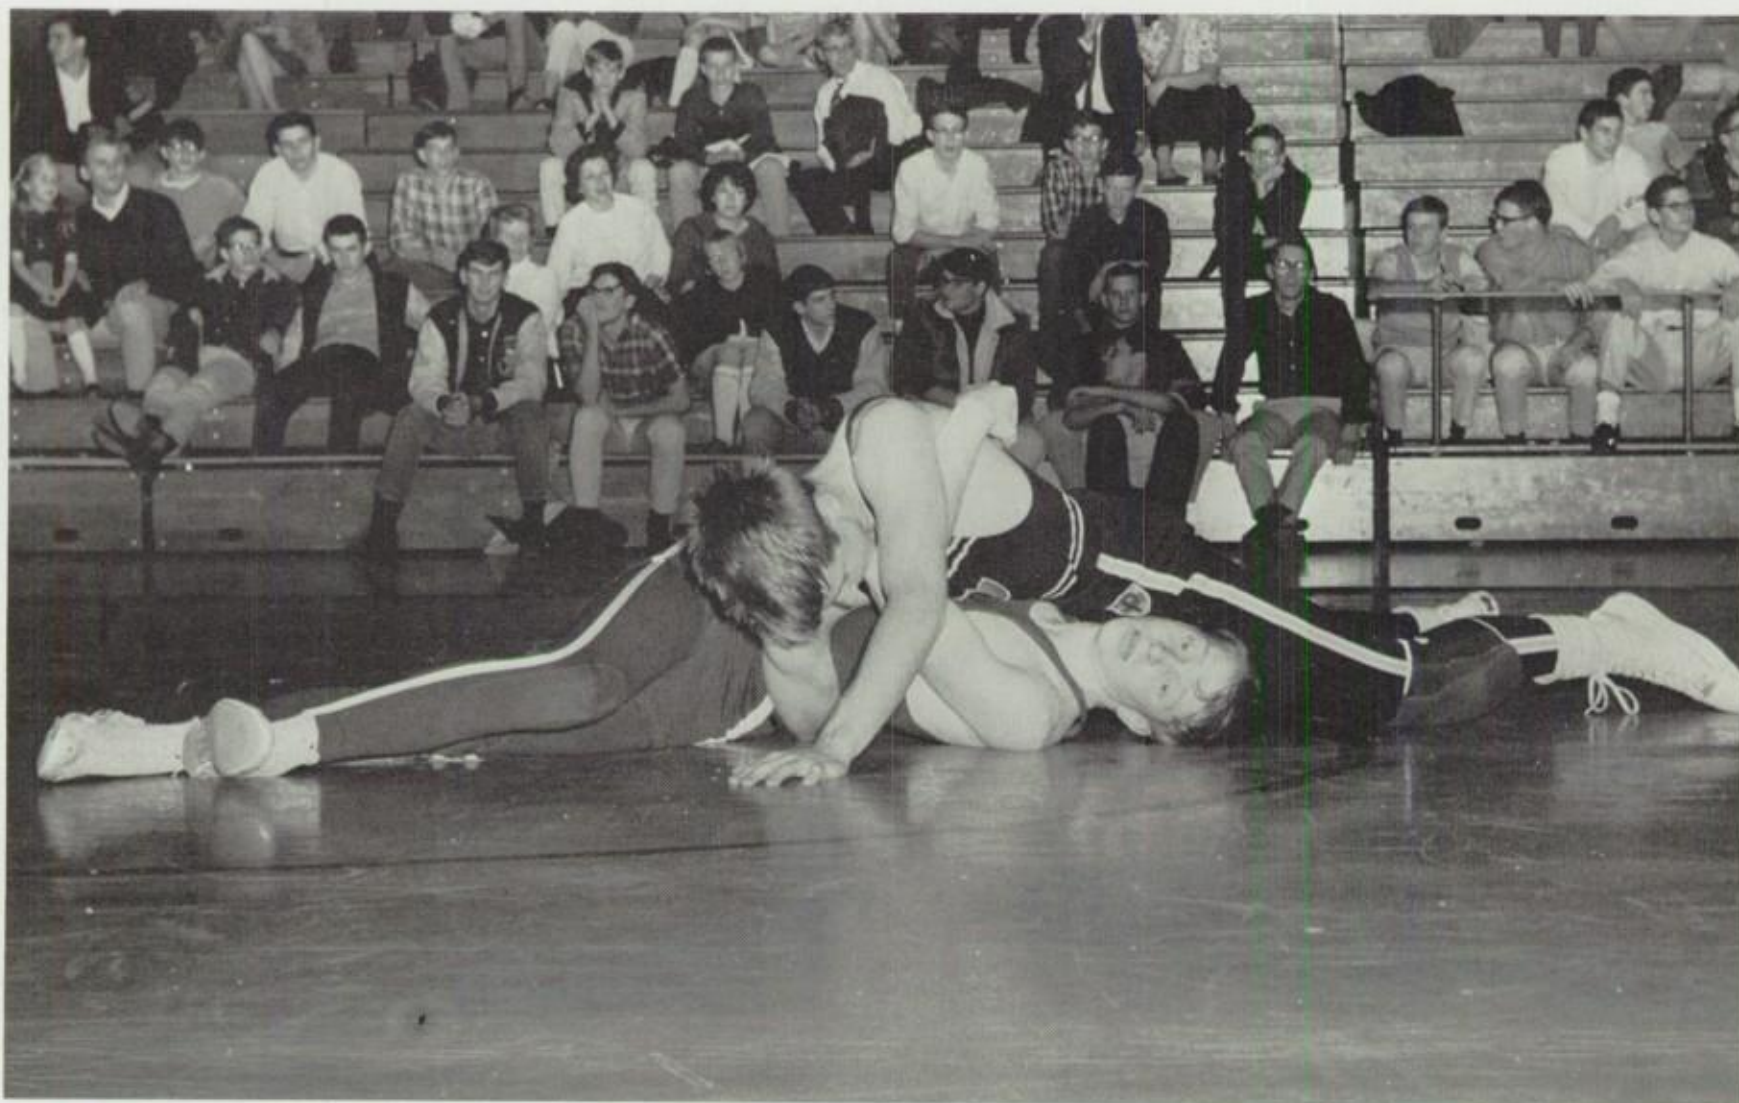

Two weeks later, Co-captain, Rick Bertoglio proved that this position was no accident when he stretched his winning streak to 11 by beating a boy who placed 3rd in the state in 1965.

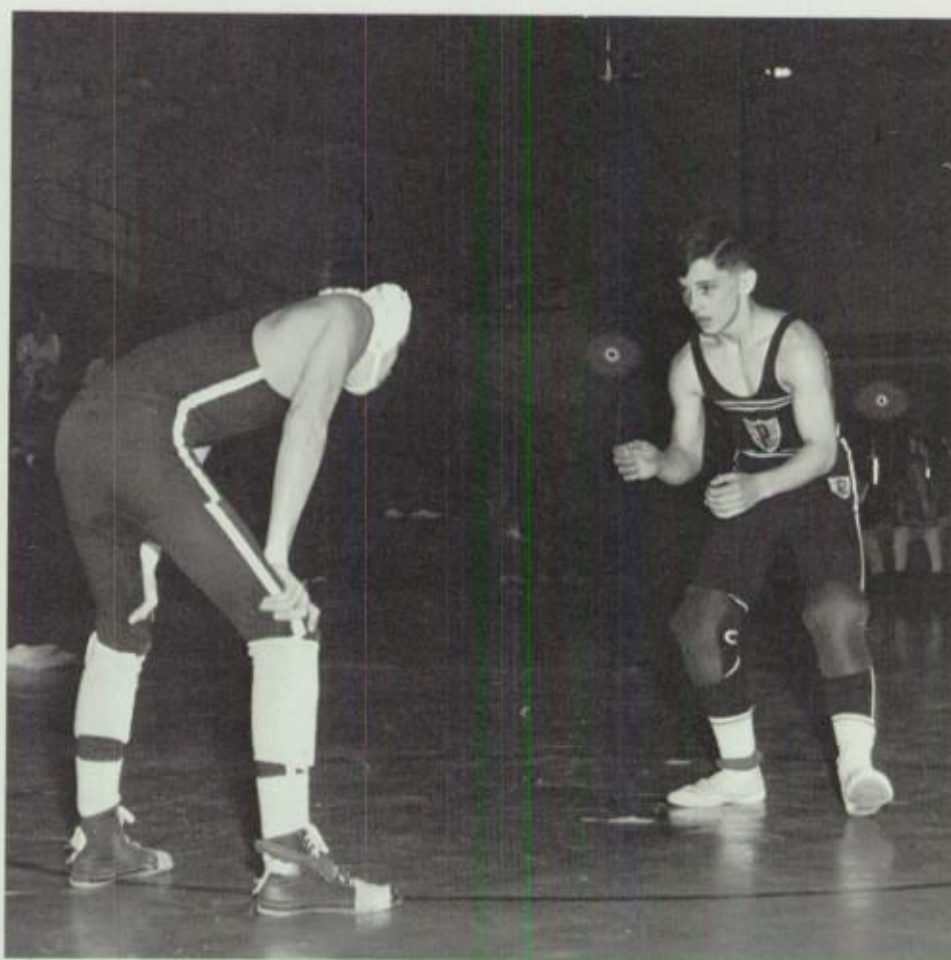

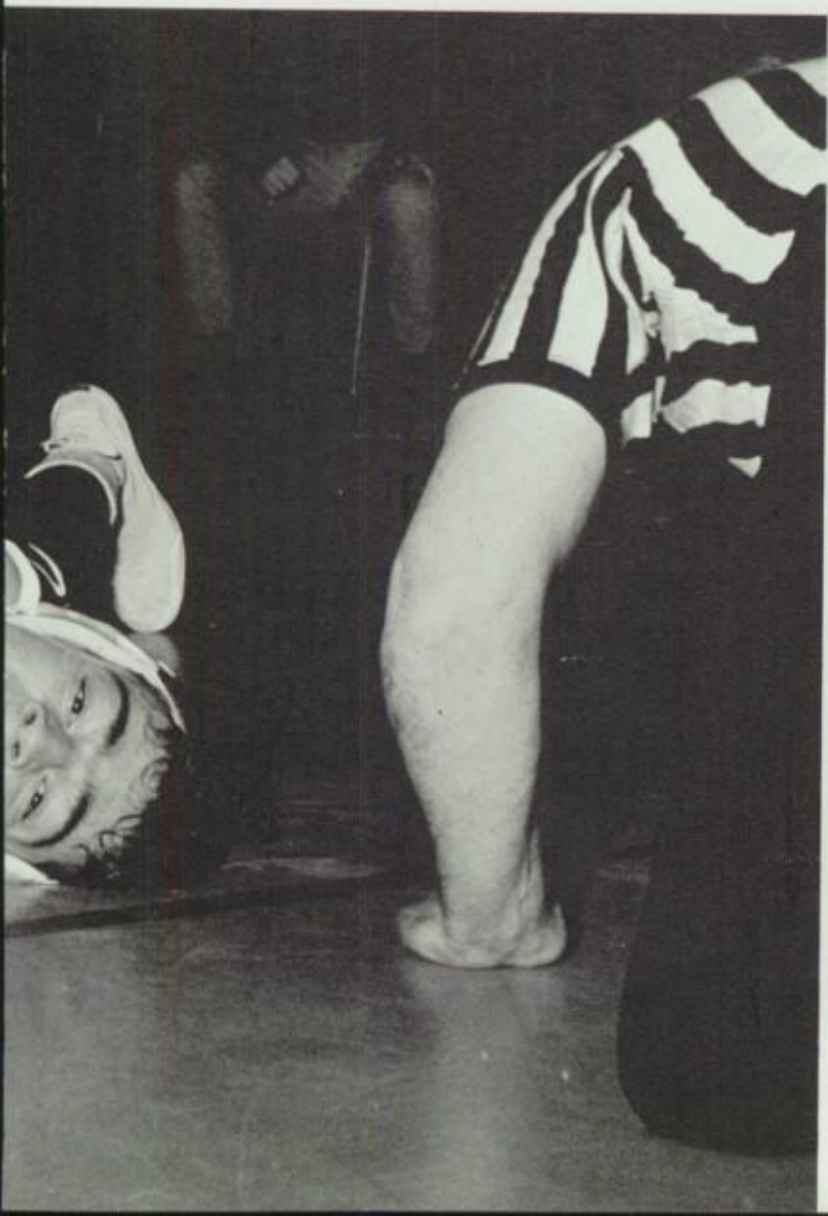

Junior Mike Mohr returns to the varsity grapplers, after an operation, to gain points which led to a Prospect victory.

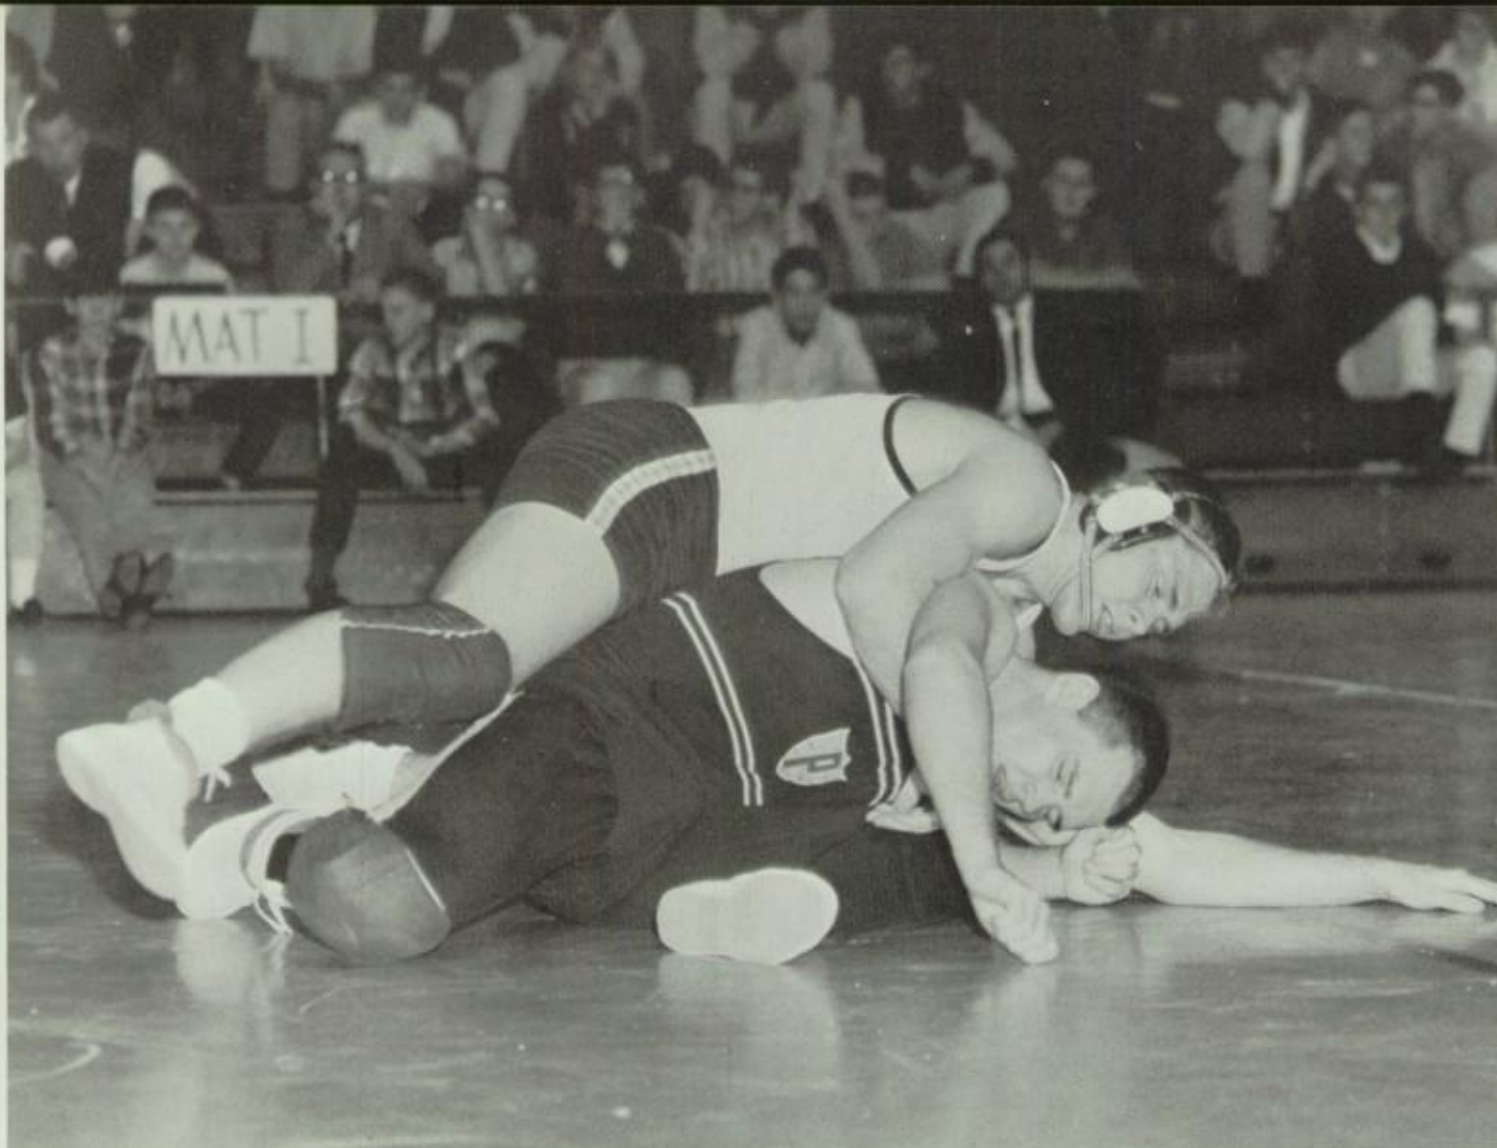

Bill Kalvog, a returning letterman, is about to pin his opponent from Arlington during the second round of the Prospect Triangular.

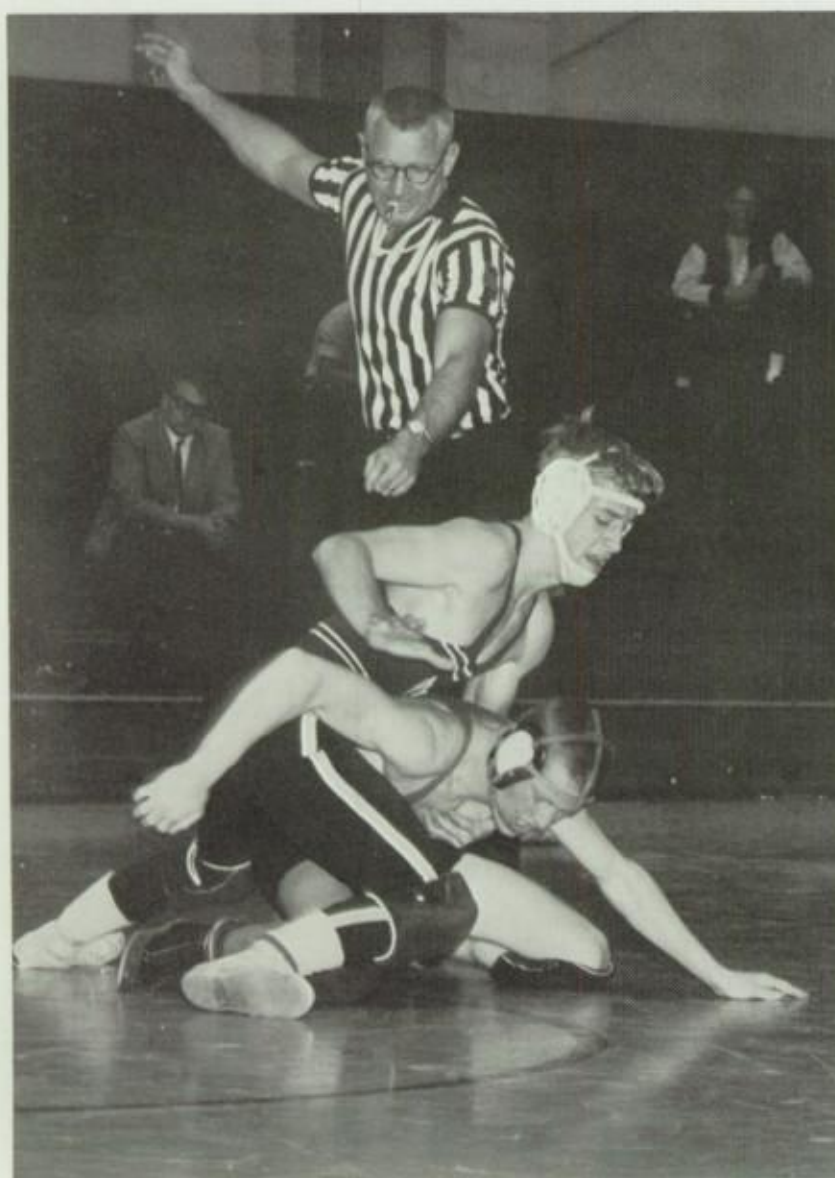

In the holiday tournament senior-finals Gary McMorrow, 95 pounder, sizes up his opponent. In a few moments he will walk off the mat having gained the right to compete for the tournament championship.

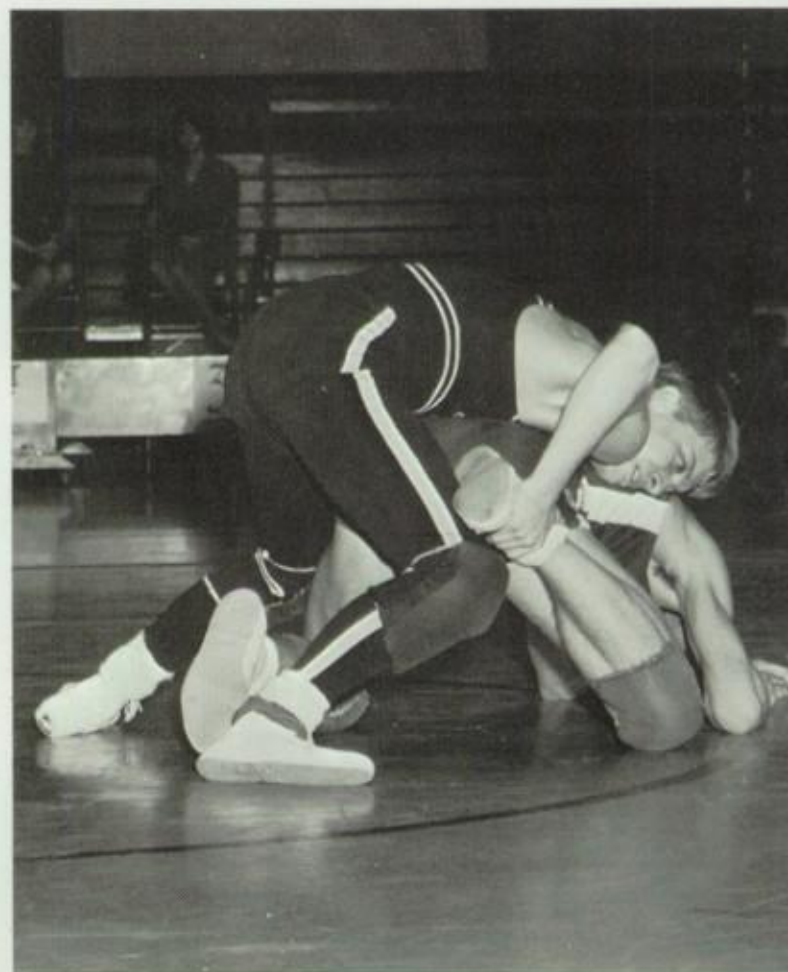

Kim Schier sits, turns, and finally escapes from his Falcon opponent during the 180 pound match.

Under the enthusiastic coaching of Mr. Williams, Mr. Ziemek, and Mr. Seymour, the varsity eleven finished fourth in the conference with an overall record of 1—4—4. Assisting the gridders in their limited success were Nick Rutigliano, Tom Beard, and Ray Kleinhulzen. One of the season's greatest highlights was the naming of senior guard Dan Agard as one of fifteen high school All—American guards.

Ending the season with a 34—0 victory over Conant, the junior varsity football team finished fourth in the Mid—Suburban League with a conference record of 4—3—1. Each week the coaches, Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Arseneau, chose two gridders to be co-captains for that week. Seven skilled juniors saw varsity action after moving up from the JV squad. With hard work the boys plan to regain the traveling trophy.

Skill and dexterity remained of paramount importance throughout the 1965 sophomore football season. Under the experienced coaching of Mr. Mudge and Mr. Gaines, the second-year gridgers spent many after school hours working out game techniques and strategy. With a victory over the Wheeling Wildcats, the squad posted a 1—7 record. In spite of their losses, the sophomore Knights were energetic and full of spirit.

Through the many devoted hours of hard practice, this year's freshman football teams prepared for tough conference competition. Coached by Mr. Benoche and Mr. Barrett, the Freshman A team closed the season with a 3—5 record. The Freshman B team, coached by Mr. Shirmang and Mr. Farns, compiled a record of 5—1. All sixty boys exhibited fighting spirit and showed promising indications of success for future years.

Prospect's varsity cross country team put in many miles and long hours during after school practices and some pre-dawn sessions. Encouraged by their enthusiastic coach, Mr. Calisch, and sparked by Dick Braunschweig, Dennis Breen, and Jack Pollard, the varsity harriers placed sixth in both the conference and the district meet. The two-milers compiled a 2—7 over all record. In preparing for their meets, the boys ran six to ten miles a day.

Coach Wanner and the frosh-soph cross country squad trounced all opposition and took the crucial meet against Palatine 27—28 for the conference championship. The team won the conference meet and posted records of 5—0 for the conference and 10—0 overall. One of the outstanding young harriers was Steve Holmes. The boys ran six to ten miles a day to condition for the 1.9 mile course and also worked out at early morning practices.

After a first place win in the Pontiac Holiday Tournament, the Knight's varsity cagers ranked tenth in state basketball standings. Junior Tom Lundstedt made an outstanding exhibition of his skill during the tourney by scoring 113 points in four games. Mr. Kinneman's starting line-up, Dan Agard, Tom Beard, Tony Kulasa, Tom Lundstedt, and J. D. Thorne, specialized in an aggressive man-to-man defense and a pick and roll offense.

The junior varsity basketball squad led a concerted drive for the conference championship this season. Under the watchful guidance of Coach Arseneau, the team was in great shape and pulled many critical games from fire. The "Jayvees" were greatly enriched by sophomores Mike Anderson, a starter, and Butch Leonard and Forrest Haney, both substitutes, but the squad thrived on team effort rather than individual stars.

Returning from extremely successful freshman competition, Prospect's sophomore cagers worked to repeat last year's greatness. There was no individuality—only skilled teamwork. Under the guidance and coaching of Mr. Szymanski, the team compiled a 1—8 record. Though the team lost Forrest Haney and Marvin Hope to the JV squad, the sophomores went on to more victories. The boys anticipate a more successful '66-'67 season.

What the freshman A and B cagers lacked in height, they made up for in enthusiasm. Fundamental skills, including fast-breaking and man-to-man defensive maneuvers, were practiced by the earnest young Knights. Coached by Mr. Benoche, the A team compiled a 6—8 record. Mr. Chapman's B squad posted an 8—3 record. The future success of the team depends greatly on the experience gained this year.

Though the swimming team, piloted by coaches Barrett and Sandine, worked with determined participation and practice to improve last year's mark, the team met with tough competition. Tom Braakman, Mike Busse, Bob Krysiak, and John Norton, members of the medley relay team, set records. The team's early morning practices were held at the Y.M.C.A. Senior John Norton finished tenth in state butterfly competition.

Freshman and sophomore tankers found themselves swimming sprints and distances and ironing out starts, turns, and stroke techniques during their 7 a.m. practices at the Des Plaines "Y". Under coaches Barrett and Sandine and the capable swimming of Essick, Betts, and Flynn, the squad overcame conference rival Forest View in the last relay. These young swimmers tied with Maine West for ninth in the conference.

Coach Farris piloted the varsity gymnastics team toward a conference championship. Such outstanding members as trampolinists Rick Carr and Bill Nendel, sidehorse man Bruce Cole, parallel bars performer Stu Bedford, and tumbler Bob Goffinski bolstered the squad's endeavors. Bruce Cole and Rick Carr ended their senior year by placing 2nd and 3rd respectively in the 1966 State Gymnastic Meet.

Though inexperienced, the frosh-soph gymnasts, through hard work and coaching by Mr. Gaines, worked for ease and continuity in their routines. The team of first and second year gymnastics enthusiasts compiled a 7-10-1 record. Bruce Boulton and Ken Barr showed outstanding ability and saw some varsity action. Other standouts on the eighteen man squad were sophomores Steve Bang, Nick Peneff, John Ehrhardt, and Bill Van Sky.

Coached by Mr. Mudge, Prospect's varsity grapplers shared the conference championship with Maine West. Despite having only three returning lettermen, the squad made an excellent showing with a conference record of 5—1. Co-captains were Rick Bertoglio with a record of 18—2 and Jim Herod 11—9. The varsity matmen took first place in the holiday tourney; McMorrow, Holmes, Kalvog, and Bertoglio placed in districts.

A team determination to pin opponents to the mat was the goal of this year's junior varsity wrestling team. Responsible for much of the team's success was the knowledgeable coaching of Mr. Porter and team standouts, Rich Basch with four pins in a row and Joe Koza, undefeated in six meets. The JV grapplers ranked second in the Mid-Suburban League Conference and finished the season with an 8—3 record.

Prospect's sophomore grapplers, coached by Mr. Ziemek, ended the season with an undefeated conference standing and a 9-1 record in dual meets. The second year wrestlers, headed by team captains Bob Link and Jeff Schneider, won the Prospect Holiday Tournament and the Maine East Tournament. The sophs spent many after school practice hours in sweat suits trying to maintain their weight and perfect the maneuvers.

Conditioning, basic maneuvers, and a heavy competitive schedule kept Mr. Shirmang's freshman wrestlers pinned down on the mats. Frosh grapplers Jack Costello, Tony Lazzaroni, Chuck Olson, and Rick Soduski led the team to a 9-3 dual meet record and a second place win in the Deerfield Tournament. With the squad's performance this year both the coach and the team looked forward to an even better '66-'67 season.

Strength and endurance were emphasized throughout the winter and spring season by this year's varsity track team. Prospect's trackmen participated in three categories of events: the sprint, the distance run, and field events including high jumping, pole vaulting, broad jumping, discus throwing, and shot putting. Mr. Calisch, the team coach, encouraged the trackmen on to surpass all previous records in every event.

Three returning lettermen, sparked by seniors Dave Lovgren and Doug Lytle, shot the 1966 golf team into action March 21. Before the weather lent itself to actual course play, the boys, coached for the first time by Mr. Nisen, practiced on simulated tees in the fieldhouse. The linksmen then practiced regularly before school at Mt. Prospect Country Club and devoted every effort to improve upon last year's scores.

The 1966 varsity netmen continued in the great spirit of '65 by bringing even more glory from the net to Prospect. Under the expert direction of Mr. Sandine, the seven returning lettermen strove to top the records of past years through diligent practice and resulting improved technique. Prospect entered a new conference this year which included Palatine, Maine West, and Forest View, all of them contenders for the top.

Frost-Soph tennis coach Mr. Szymanski led his teams in pre-season conditioning of push-ups, sprinting, and calisthenics to develop strength and perfect match skills. This year's net strategy included bettering the team's previous record of 13—5 in conference standing. Among those teams expected to be most difficult to beat in match play were Arlington, Deerfield, Forest View, and Maine West.

March 7 found the ball field populated by Knight sluggers initiating their practice for the 1966 season. Hopes for outstanding performances in pitching by lettermen J. D. Thorne and Dave Kingman spurred the team on to strengthen their strategy in other areas. Coach Aldrich used his six returning varsity lettermen to balance team offense and defense.

An early start in practice was beneficial in developing the batting, pitching, and fielding skills of the freshman and sophomore baseball teams. The players reacquainted themselves with old skills and acquired new ones in March, nearly a month before the first game. Coached by Mr. Hipple and Mr. Chapman, the teams first practiced in the field-house.

Student Council

Throughout the 1965-1966 school year, the Student Council worked toward improving council-student relations and to achieve a better understanding with the administration. Many of the Student Council discussions, guided by Mr. Kunnen and Mrs. Stewart, dealt with senior privileges and all-school activities. The Council organized a special' Fun Night and sponsored Knightimes and the Variety Show.

Foreign Exchange Students Myrian Dassi and Kaarina Hacklin

Myrian's senior Theme-X class gives her a chance to polish her writing in English.

Finland and Argentina met at Prospect

During her year's stay with Mary Hansen, Kaarina Hacklin, from Mantta, Finland, learned everything from what it means to be an American to the fundamentals of basketball. Kaarina came to Prospect under the American Field Service program. Myrian Dassi was the Knight's International Fellowship student from Arterosm, Argentina. Myrian was hosted by senior Jeri Robbins and her family.

Kaarina obligingly dons her native costume for speaking assignments at area schools.

QUILL AND SCROLL. Sherry Tuller, Claudia Grafton, Alice Tully, Paul Colianni, Paul Peterson, Kathy Hagan, Dorene Tessmer.

Quill and Scroll

Members of the Prospect chapter of Quill and Scroll were selected from juniors and seniors whose outstanding work on the Prospector and the Crest, scholarship and advisor recommendation qualified them for membership. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Sanderson, advisors of the newspaper and the yearbook, worked through the organization to encourage and reward achievement.

Mu Alpha Theta

Finding the solution for unusual math problems kept members of Mu Alpha Theta busy throughout the year. The co-sponsors, Mrs. Smith and Mr. Purcell, prepared special problems for the group to work on and acquired games of logic, such as wiff-n-proof. This honorary mathematics organization was open to seniors, juniors, and some sophomores who were majoring in math.

Tri-M

Providing wider and more frequent opportunities for musical expression was the end to which the Modern Music Masters strove. The honorary society sponsored a coke dance, saw My Fair Lady, attended a district dinner, and provided two music camp scholarships. Tri-M sponsor Mr. Blackley selected members for scholarship, character, co-operation, leadership, and service.

ROW THREE: Gail Heumann, Lynn Hughson, Dan Nixon, Duane Davis, Jim Johnson, Roger Willis, Carole Otto, Kathy King.

Art Club

Art Club not only acted as a stimulus for students who enjoyed art, but also provided an outlet for student creativity. Members entered a contest to design an emblem for River Trail Park and made posters for the winter sports. The club, with sponsor, Mr. Knudsen, visited the Art Institute.

Audio-Visual Club

This year the Audio-Visual Club, sponsored by Mr. Payne, met during the regular school day. The group made sound recordings for music and P.E. departments and were responsible for the lighting of plays and dances. The group sponsored a coke dance and the Travel and Adventure series.

Biology Club

Offering additional educational experiences and opportunities and having a good time were the aims of this year's Biology Club. Under the supervision of Mr. Clark, the club created a giant paper napkin frog, "We'll croak 'em", to promote school spirit during homecoming. The acclaimed popularity of the club was due perhaps to various field trips, among which were excursions to the dunes, and Lutheran General Hospital to view the medical technology laboratories.

Keeping with the atmosphere of Knightimes Biology Club members work feverishly to construct a prize-winning float.

Business Education Club

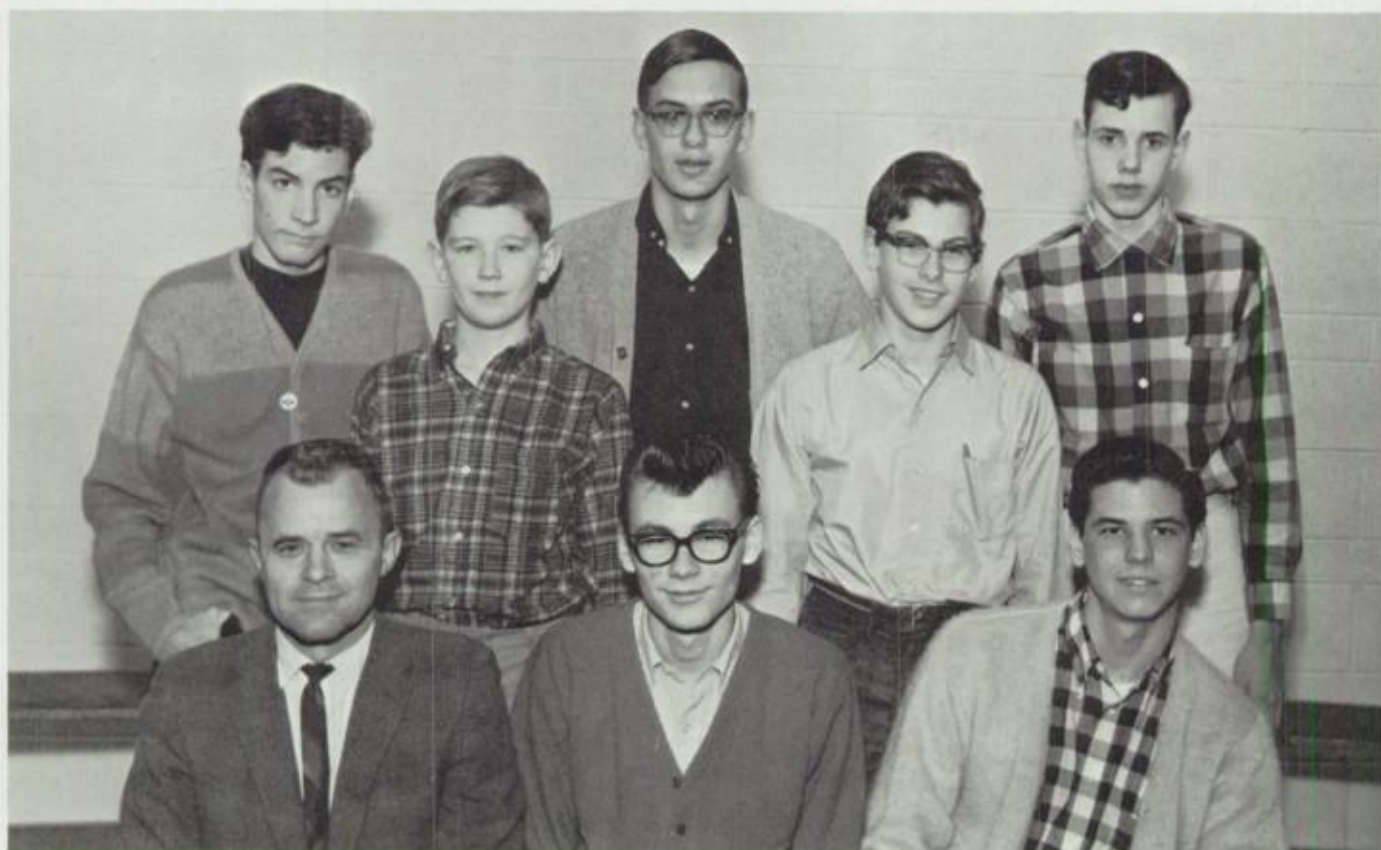

Secretaries, stenographers, and bookkeepers-to-be gained insight into the business world through Business Education Club. Sponsors of the club, Mrs. Rhoback, Mrs. Wubbel, and Mrs. Bright, acquainted members with business management through guest speakers and field trips.

Bridge Club

Each Friday found the twelve eager members of the Bridge Club intent upon that partnership card game, bridge. Advised by Mr. Gelhaar, the club emphasized bidding, playing the hand correctly, counting points, and learning new "tricks," as the players became increasingly skillful in their game.

BRIDGE CLUB. FRONT ROW: Dan Kasberger, Norm Horler, Lee Gundersen, Barb Markus, Linda Marwedel, Harold Voss, Bill Wichmann, Mr. Gelhaar.

CHESS CLUB.

Chess Club

Topping the agenda of the Chess Club were inter-school matches. The skills and playing techniques developed by the members in after-school play were challenged by competitors from other schools in the district. Directing the every-other-Thursday meetings and game play was Mr. Clark.

Creative Writing Club

With guidance and constructive criticism from Mrs. Himley and Mrs. Wasem, members of the Creative Writing Club experimented with composing character sketches, plays, and poems. The sixteen members met every other week to discuss different types of writing as well as to write.

Crest

Cherished memories and unforgettable experiences are those elements preserved within the pages of a yearbook. To the editors and members of the Crest staff, this volume also represented endless hours of toil, sweat, and sometimes tears. Guided by Mrs. Sanderson, the staff spent their sixth and seventh hours writing copy, cropping pictures, composing captions, typing, and filing.

A dictionary, a thesaurus, and a back issue of the Crest are consulted constantly in making current layouts and selecting type.

Repeated checking and double-checking, indispensable to year-book accuracy, take up much of the staff member's time.

Assistant Editor Judy Carlson and Marsha Garr, underclass editor, and Nancy Kolerus, senior editor, pause for a moment.

The members of the three debate levels, beginning, sub-varsity, and varsity, exhibited avid interest in collecting and organizing facts to debate, "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Adopt a Program of Compulsory Arbitration in Labor-management Disputes in Basic Industry." In advising this year's teams, Miss McGuigan and Mr. McNabb encouraged, criticized, and helped strengthen the team arguments.

Orchesis

Under the new sponsorship of Mrs. Koller, the twenty-six members of Orchesis created and practiced for their performances. Many after school and evening rehearsals were spent in perfecting the shows to be presented at three basketball half-times and a spring dance concert.

Sixth-hour and after-school practice makes perfection possible.

Grace and dexterity are the essence of successful Orchesis productions.

Philosophy Club

"Know thyself" and "God is dead" are but two of the many concepts Philosophy Club has considered this year. Under the guidance of Mr. Davis and Mr. Hundt, the group conducted their meetings in a seminar fashion, discussing and using films and excerpts of selected works.

Pep Club

Have you got that spirit? Pep Club has! Aside from making banners for all sports, the girls sponsored "Fill the Fieldhouse Night," the Cup of Spirit and held a banquet in February. With the leadership of Mrs. Sunstrum, the club encouraged spirit, service, and sportsmanship.

Rhythmettes

Fifty-two high stepping Rhythmettes began their 1965-1966 marching season with four football half-time shows. Under the capable direction of Mrs. Normann and co-captains Sally Godenrath and Doris Schlais the girls also presented three basketball half-times during the winter season. Climaxing a year of practice, hard work, and fun the Rhythmettes hosted their annual turnabout.

During one of the basketball half-time shows, the Rhythmettes performed their oriental show which kept the audiences attention.

The co-captains Doris Schlais and Sally Godenrath led the Rhythmettes during a pre-game practice.

During the monthly meetings, the members heard lectures by Jeri Robbins and Richard Henderson concerning their summer trips to South America and viewed films taken by their sponsor, Mr. Curry.

Speech Events

Students interested in speechmaking found a challenge in participating in Individual Speech Events. Both readings and original speeches required long hours of practicing and polishing before the contests. Coached by Mr. Sims and Miss Sims, the speakers competed from September to April and hosted a tournament in December.

Mellotones

As singing ambassadors, the Mellotones traveled to many out-of-school concerts. Under the direction of Mr. Blackley, the thirteen junior girls practiced twice a week on varied vocal selections. The girls highlighted the Knighttimes assembly with a serenade for the queen.

Mellotones practice through unending hours to prepare for a demanding schedule of performances throughout the entire year.

Several of the junior girls chosen from the Sophomore Ensemble last year preview the music to be used at a forthcoming concert.

MR. HAROLD SLICHENMYER. As the superintendent of District 214 he served as the liaison between the school board and the high schools. During his twelve years of office, Mr. Slichenmyer witnessed the growth of the district from one high school to four, with two more planned for the near future. After twenty-one years of administrative service to the township district, he planned on retiring to Florida at the end of the present school year.

BOARD OF EDUCATION. FRONT ROW: Mrs. Leah Cummins, Secretary; Mr. Arthur E. Aronson, President; Dr. Frank J.

Smith, Mr. H. W. Armstrong. ROW TWO: William F. Griffith, Richard A. Bachhuber, T. Earl Thompson.

MR. ALVIN KULIEKE. Correlating the instructional, office, and activity programs as well as managing public and interschool relations were but a few of the many responsibilities designated to Mr. Kulieke. Ending his ninth year as principal of the Prospect Knights, he was the only administrator to have remained at Prospect during the entire life of the school.

*Best wishes,
Jim Kunnen*

Assistant Principal for Instructional Services

At odds with numerous difficulties, the mailroom staff strives to sort and deliver mail promptly and efficiently.

Hard at work in office 115 is Mrs. Humphrey, secretary to Mr. Kulieke and in charge of office personnel.

18,000 pounds of paper and the hard work of office personnel provided the paperwork that kept Prospect running smoothly. Secretaries, counselors, and student office guides were responsible for the efficiency of the administrative, attendance, and counseling offices.

Don't know if you're 1/6 of the way there

Faculty worked to initiate additional academic interest

Desiring to keep abreast of new educational techniques and developments in their fields, Prospect teachers continued their education after school hours. Evenings, Saturdays, and summer vacations were spent accumulating hours and knowledge towards Masters' Degrees. Six of our math teachers have been studying advanced mathematics under National Foundation grants in California, Arizona, and Illinois. After completing research on pollen tube germination, Mr. Wachlin wrote a thesis on his experiments for a Specialist in Education degree. This paper was published in a scientific journal. Also doing distinctive work in his chosen field, Mr. Schmidt authored a book, Our Federal and State Constitution, released early in 1966. Mr. Vaisvil, during the past summer, headed a committee for gifted and emotionally disturbed children at Michael Reese Hospital. Occupying much of Miss Fowler's time was the Illinois Guidance and Personnel Association of which she is secretary.

Miss Donna Marie Voltz, after thirty-two years of teaching in District 214, has retired! In recent years she has served as division head of the Social studies and Foreign Language Division, and in doing so, has brought about varied changes and improvements. Having the longest employment record in the district Miss Voltz has planned to travel widely and occupy herself with other personal interests.

1,200 meals, six acres

The aroma that drew students to the cafeteria and the spotlessness of the corridor which led them there were the work of Prospect's cooks and custodians. The kitchen staff served nearly 1,200 Knights daily, while the maintenance crew kept six acres of floor area shining.

Frosh became spirited Knights

"Where is my locker? I don't understand my lunch schedule!" These and other frustrating questions were the bewildered refrain of many of Prospect's freshmen. Adapting to new experiences and situations seemed an easy task for the Class of '69 as they became the first to have their name engraved on the Cup of Spirit surpassing the other classes in class and school spirit. Sponsoring the frosh, Mrs. Stewart oriented class officers to their duties and helped co-ordinate the turnabout.

Sophomores challenged spirit of other classes

Working under the guidance of Miss Ellerman, the Class of '68 successfully completed their second year at Prospect. As every sophomore must take a day-long battery of Iowa Tests of Educational Development, this year's sophs were no exception. Late in September the Class of '68 spent a day answering the endless questions. December eleventh culminated hours and weeks of preparation as the sophomores presented the winter formal, 'Twas the Knight Before Christmas."

The junior class strove toward a memorable prom

A year of anticipation, work, and spirit awaited the Class of '67. Meeting head-on the year's challenges as upper-classmen, the juniors opened the Prospect social season with the annual fall dance; this year titled, "Knight-life." Working under the guidance of class sponsors, Miss Fowler and Mr. Vaisvil, the Junior Class planned and presented the 1966 prom, "Something Old, Something New." Ending a year of spirit, work, and fun, the juniors looked forward to their senior year.

Senior class worked for recognition

At the All Knight Party Seniors practice phone booth stuffing for next year.

There is no other feeling quite like the pride and challenge of being a senior. Boasting six National Merit semi-finalists, the seniors added to their academic prowess. Filling out applications, taking college entrance exams, and writing term papers were only part of the paper work which kept the class of '66 eternally busy. To the seniors, observing old traditions, senior breakfasts, dress-up days, and senior parties made their last year at Prospect uniquely different from the rest. For the Class of 1966, this was a year of leadership, responsibility, and preparation.

Many senior boys take typing hoping it will help them in college.

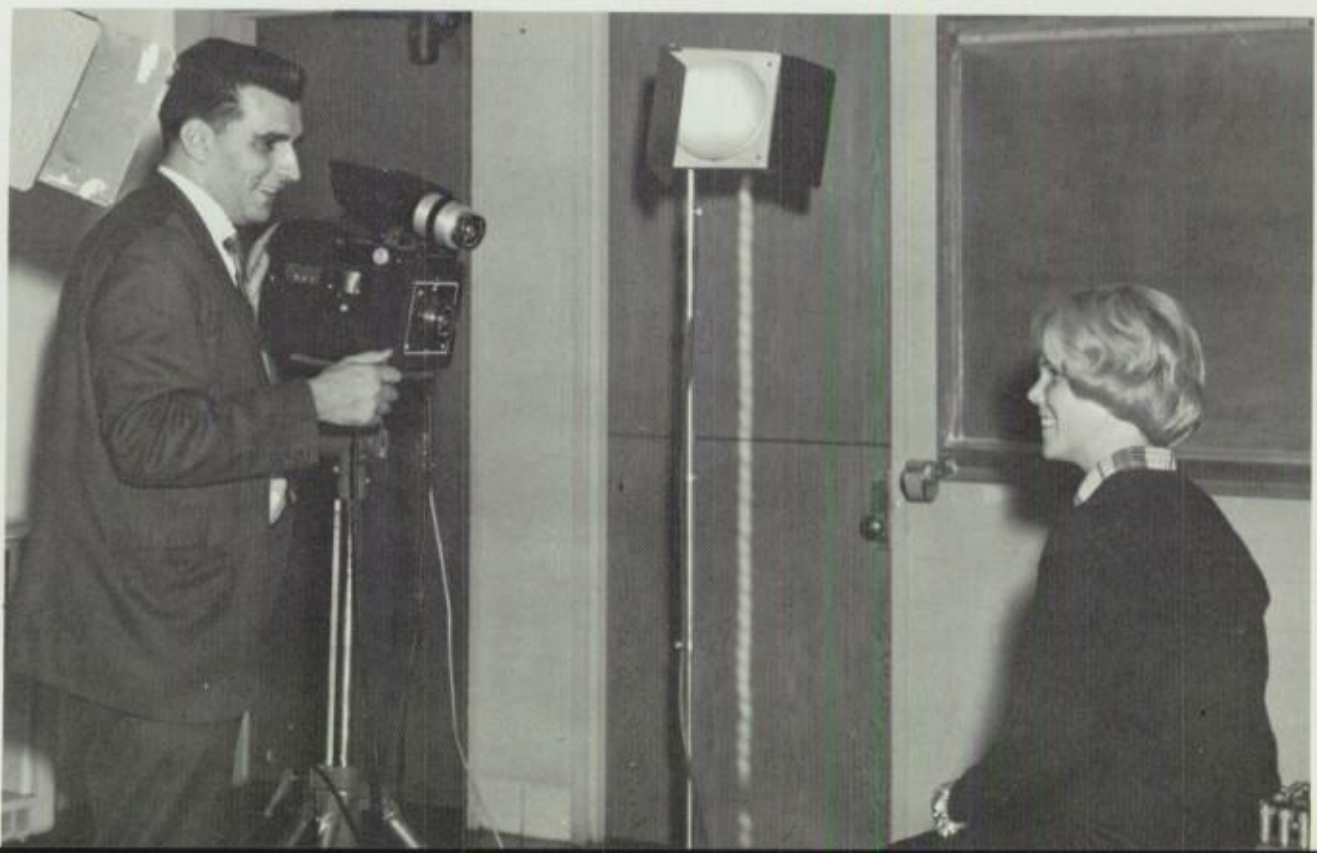

After adding the finishing touches to their float, seniors rush to the parade an hour late, which means disqualification.

Joel Mattson sets the scene for "A Pocketa Full of Dreams" as he sings "Try to Remember" and gives an introductory narration.

Seniors start out the year with a big smile to be preserved forever.

The 1966 Crest is the result of the work and talents of many people. The myriad details have been checked, countless problems solved, and major crises surmounted by a most capable staff. In planning this Crest we have tried to give an accurate, complete record of 1966 as well as a glimpse of the spirit of Prospect High School. Again, thanks to editors, staff, advisor, and Buckwheat for a job well done.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In appreciation for
 The co-operation and effort
 Of the individuals and groups
 Who helped produce the 1966 Crest.

To Mr. Clint Parsons
 Of the American Yearbook Company
 For his welcomed suggestions,
 Criticisms, and encouragements.

To Mr. Ed Hackleman
 Who gave us the benefit of
 Objective opinions and an awareness
 To see things we hadn't seen before.

To Mr. Al Jones
 Of the American Yearbook Company
 For being available for phone calls
 To help solve minor catastrophes.

To Miss Eleanor Johnson
 And Root Studios for Creative assistance and Imaginative photography.

To Mrs. Audrey Sanderson
 For her devoted service
 As yearbook advisor and for her
 Invaluable help and creative ideas.

To the faculty and administration
 For their interest and willing
 Co-operation in accomodating
 Us in our numerous requests.

To the student body
 For being the spirit of the Knights
 And for being the focal point of the Ninth chapter of Prospect's story.

To the 1966 Crest staff
 For their concerted efforts,
 Desire to learn, and
 Long hours of hard work.
 The Editors of the 1965-1966 Crest

I wish you well in all your undertakings.
